Ghetto At The Center Of The World Chungking Mansions:

Ghetto at the Center of the World Gordon Mathews, 2011-06-30 4e de couv Chungking Mansions a dilapidated seventeen story commercial and residential structure in the heart of Hong Kong s tourist district is home to a remarkably motley group of people Traders laborers and asylum seekers from all over Asia and Africa live and work there and even backpacking tourists rent rooms in what is possibly the most globalized spot on the planet But as Ghetto at the center of the world shows us the Mansions is a world away from the gleaming headquarters of multinational corporations instead it epitomizes the way globalization actually works for most of the world s people Through candid stories that both instruct and enthrall Gordon Mathews lays bare the building s residents intricate connections to the international circulation of goods money and ideas

Chinese Daigou: An Ethnography of Brokerage Practices and Mobility Politics in Globalized China Zhuoxiao Xie, 2024-12-02 This book is an ethnography of Chinese daigou cross border shopping on the behalf of mainland Chinese customers and their mobilities practices Daigou practitioners predominantly women engage in selling purchasing and delivering goods between mainland China and overseas regions With the rise of the platform economy and mobile technologies daigou has evolved into a niche market contributing to the her economy and consumerism in China This ethnography provides a comprehensive exploration of the gendered technological practices of mobile communication and mobility politics between mainland China and Hong Kong depicting micro entrepreneurship place making and border crossing activities in three intersecting scenes Theoretically this book synthesizes the literature on mobilities science and technological studies service labor and mobile communication It offers a fresh perspective by focusing on the mobile communication that both produces and is produced by mobilities of people data objects and technologies The study expands theories of mobility politics by developing a heuristic model of brokerage theorizing the communication processes through which daigou as brokers influence manage or facilitate multiple forms and meanings of mobilities in globalized China From a feminist science and technology perspective the book examines how daigou scenarios embed gender specific concepts into technological practices reinforcing entrenched unequal gender relations in service labor and family contexts It interrogates the mechanisms of unequal mobilities associated with the logic of brokerage which strengthens the differentiation of gender technology and labor among different parties These brokerage processes multiply the discrepancies in mobilities exacerbating gaps in structural relationships and becoming significant mechanisms of inequality

Globalization from Below Gordon Mathews, Gustavo Lins Ribeiro, Carlos Alba Vega, 2012-08-21 This book explores globalization as actually experienced by most of the world s people buying goods from street vendors brought by traders moving past borders and across continents under the radar of the law The dimensions and practices of globalization from below are depicted and analyzed in detail by a team of international scholars Topics covered include the New Silk Road African traders in China street hawking in Calcutta and pirate CDs in Mexico The chapters provide intimate portrayals of routes markets and people in locations across the globe and explore theories that can help make sense of these complex and fascinating case studies. Students of globalization, economic anthropology, and developing world economics will find the book invaluable.

Mall City Stefan Al, 2016-11-30. Hong Kong is the twenty-first century paradigmatic capital of consumerism. Of all places, it has the densest and tallest concentration of malls, reaching tens of stories. Hong Kong's malls are also the most visited, sandwiched between subways and skyscrapers. These mall complexes have become cities in and of themselves, accommodating tens of thousands of people who live, work, and play within a single structure. Mall City features Hong Kong as a unique rendering of an advanced consumer society. Retail space has come a long way since the nineteenth century covered passages of Paris, which once awed the bourgeoisie with glass roofs and gaslights. It has morphed from the arcade to the department store and from the mall into the mall city, where express escalators crisscross mesmerizing atriums. Highlighting the effects of this development in Hong Kong, this book raises questions about architecture, city planning, culture, and urban life.

Hong Kong Culture and Society in the New Millennium Yiu-Wai Chu, 2017-03-15. This book discusses the notion of Hong Kong as Method, as it relates to the rise of China in the context of Asianization. It explores new Hong Kong imaginaries with regard to the complex relationship between the local, the national, and the global. The major theoretical thrust of the book is to address the reconfiguration of Hong Kong's culture and society in an age of global modernity from the standpoints of different disciplines, exploring the possibilities of approaching Hong Kong as a method. Through critical inquiries into different fields related to Hong Kong's culture and society, including gender, resistance, and minorities, various perspectives on the country's culture and society can be reassessed. New directions and guidelines related to Hong Kong are also presented, offering a unique resource for researchers and students in the fields of cultural studies, media studies, postcolonial studies, globalization, and Asian studies.

Life After Death Today in the United States, Japan, and China Gordon Mathews, Yang Yang, Miu Ying Kwong, 2023-01-24. This book is about contemporary senses of life after death in the United States, Japan, and China. By collecting and examining hundreds of interviews with people from all walks of life in these three societies, the book presents and compares personally held beliefs, experiences, and interactions with the concept of life after death. Three major aspects covered by the book include, but are certainly not limited to, the enduring tradition of Japanese ancestor veneration, China's transition from state-sponsored materialism to the increasing belief in some form of afterlife, as well as the diversity in senses of or disbelief in life after death in the United States. Through these diverse first-hand testimonies, the book reveals that underlying these changes in each society is a shift from collective to individual belief, with people developing their own visions of what may or may not happen after death. This book will be valuable reading for students of Anthropology, as well as Religious, Cultural, Asian, and American Studies. It will also be an impactful resource for professionals such as doctors, nurses, and hospice workers.

African Transnational Mobility in China Roberto Castillo, 2020-12-29. Considering the African presence in China from an ethnographic and cultural studies perspective, this book offers a new way to theorise contemporary and future forms of transnational mobilities while expanding our understandings around the transformations happening in both China and Africa The author develops an original argument and new theoretical insights about the significance of the African presence in Guangzhou and presents an invaluable case study for understanding particular modes of transnational mobility More broadly it challenges forms of re presenting and producing knowledge about subjects on the move and it transforms existing theorisations and critical understandings of mobility and its shaping power Through an ethnographic approach the book brings us closer to a number of practices features and objects that while characterising the lives of Africans in Guangzhou are also evidence of the interplay between individual aspirations and the structural constraints embedded in contemporary regimes of transnational mobility Raising critical questions about ways of un belonging in the precarious settings of neoliberal modernity and the future of African mobilities this book will be of interest to scholars of transnational African and Chinese Studies

Skateboard Video Duncan McDuie-Ra,2021-09-20 This book is about skateboard video and experimental ways of thinking about cities It makes a provocative argument to consider skate video as an archive of the city from below Here below has a dual meaning First below refers to an unofficial archive a subaltern history of urban space Second below refers to the angle from which skateboarders and filmers gaze upon capture and consume the city from the ground up Since taking to the streets in the early 1980s skateboarding has been captured on film video tape and digital memory cards edited into consumable forms and circulated around the world Videos are objects amenable to ethnographic analysis while also archiving exercises in urban ethnography by their creators I advocate for taking skate video seriously as a fragile archive of the urban backstage collective memory across time and space creative urban practice urban encounters people to people and people to object s and the globalization of a subculture at once delinquent and magnificent

Journal of Anthropological Research ,2013 Ariel ,2015 Informal Market Worlds Peter Mörtenböck,Helge Mooshammer,2015 Bringing together imaginative architectural approaches with texts by key contemporary thinkers the two part Informal Market Worlds explores new ways to interrupt the dominant logics of neoliberal governance The Reader includes expert essays on urban informality bottom up economies and informal architectures as harbingers of social and political change Offering a global perspective on the conflicted realities of informal marketplaces from survival activities of the urban poor to transnational clandestine trade networks these analyses reveal how informality has become a political instrument in the struggles around global market integration

Passport Entanglements Nicole Constable, 2022-11-15 Passport Entanglements examines the problems with documents issued to Indonesian migrant workers in Hong Kong and explores the larger role that passports and other types of documentation play in gendered migration precarious labor and bureaucracy Focusing on the politics and inequalities embedded in passports anthropologist Nicole Constable considers how these instruments determine legal status and dictate rights Constable finds that new biometric technologies and surveillance do not lead to greater protection security or accuracy but rather reinforce violent structures on already vulnerable women by producing new vulnerabilities and reproducing old ones
