Ishteeaque, 2008 Traditional Architecture in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia Mohammad Wahbi Alhari, 1981 Traditional Architecture of the Arabian Gulf R. Hawker, 2008-06-10 This book chronicles the florescence of architecture in the Arabian Gulf after the expulsion of the Portuguese in the early 1600 s It demonstrates how the power vacuum created by the collapse of Portuguese control over the trade routes in the Indian Ocean encouraged a growth in fortified architecture especially in Oman that radiated out to the surrounding region and was then slowly replaced by new patterns in domestic and public architecture and town planning throughout the Gulf as the trade lines were secured and the individual countries took the first steps towards the formation of today s modern nation states The book documents the buildings and crafts of this era and analyses them within the framework of the political economic and social information available through primary sources from the period in a way that is both intelligent and accessible It considers the settlements as part of a larger connected network of cities towns and villages and focuses both on how the buildings provided innovative solutions to the demanding climate and yet incorporated new decorative and functional ideas Topics are extensively and richly illustrated with colored photographs of the buildings as they are now black and white and color historic photographs from archival and museum collections line drawings and computer generated reconstructions The book is therefore attractive to a number of audiences including those who live in or travel to the Gulf as well as people with an interest in Arab and Islamic design culture and society vernacular architecture and post colonial approaches to colonial history Revival of Riyadh Traditional Architecture in Saudi Arabia Mohammad S. Traditional Built Environment of Saudi Arabia Hisham Mortada,2020-09-26 Al Ula is a small town northwest of Saudi Arabia extremely rich in nature history and traditional architecture The breathtaking views of rock formations sand dunes and palm tree oases around al Ula have been essential parts of its history and built environment Along with Mada in Saleh a UNESCO world heritage site in close proximity to Al Ula there are ruins of ancient kingdoms such as Dedan Lihyan Ma in and the Nabatean in addition to remains dating back to early Islamic eras and modern history Although these ruins are sufficient enough to signify the historic geographic and natural importance of al Ula the town s organic urban fabric exhibited in the narrow zigzagged alleys adds more fascination and mystery to it and its cultural background Though al Ula was deserted more than 40 years ago by its inhabitants its street network gates and buildings are still intact Strolling through the zigzagged dark alleys sided by half stone half mud buildings is a unique experience that only exists in al Ula This book unearths the history nature and architecture of al Ula and will be of interest to people in the fields of urban history architecture sociology anthropology and Saudi heritage
