FERHENG A BIRŪSKĪ Kurmanji - English Dictionary Volume One: A - L Michael L. Chyet, 2020-01-07 Ferhenga Biruski is the go to dictionary for Kurmanji a dialect of Kurdish spoken originally in parts of Iran Iraq Syria Turkey while also being common among a large diaspora of Kurds in Europe North America and elsewhere This comprehensive Kurmanji English dictionary is prepared in two volumes by Michael L Chyet a renowned linguist with extensive knowledge of the major dialects of Kurdish This dictionary is an essential reference source for linguists and others interested in Kurdish language and people The second edition of my Kurmanji English dictionary which I would like to call Ferhenga Bir sk to honor the memory of my beloved friend and colleague Bir sk Tugan contains considerably more entries and in many cases offers fuller information on earlier entries In addition I have found and corrected several typographical errors Moreover it is to be accompanied by a companion English to Kurdish volume It is my goal to accurately reflect the language as it exists today providing variant spellings synonyms and regional usage as well as etymologies The late Iranist D N MacKenzie advised me early on to avoid filling my dictionary with ghost words He suggested that I base all the entries in my dictionary on texts both written and orally generated to ensure that I am reflecting the language as it is used by its speakers The earlier dictionaries include words of unknown provenance which may have no existence outside those pages Excerpt from the Introduction by Michael L Chyet Preface by Deniz Ekici Introduction to Ferhenga Bir sk Review of Kurdish Dictionaries How to use the dictionary Abbreviations Abbreviations of Sources Used in Compiling this Dictionary Sources for Linguistic Comparison Place of Origin of Informants Calendar Systems Dictionary A to L Kurdish Poems of Love and Liberty Desmond O'Grady, 2005 Apart from its interest at this stage of the world s history the well known Irish poet offers a poetry to chime to Irish and English speaking readers Dictionary of Midnight Abdulla Pashew, 2019-12-24 With a foreword by National Book Award winning author William T Vollmann Dictionary of Midnight collects almost 50 years of poetry by Abdulla Pashew the most influential Kurdish poet alive today Pashew s poems chart a personal cartography of exile recounting the recent political history of Kurdistan and its struggle for independence Poet translator Alana Marie Levinson LaBrosse worked with the poet to select and translate his most iconic poems balancing well known politically engaged contemporary Kurdish classics like 12 Lessons for Children with the concise love lyrics that have always punctuated his work Departing Rebwar Fatah, 2021-08-08 The author of these collected poems Goran Meriwani is an integrated part of the stories that he tells He was born and brought up in the Kurdish city of Sulaymaniyah and he was barely 20 years of age when he had to seek international protection My second oldest brother Goran Meriwani and my oldest brother Dilshad Meriwani were both poets Goran survived to tell the story of his Kurdish people and also deliver the stories from his second home country Sweden Dilshad did not have Goran s luck because he was executed by Saddam Hussein s regime for several reasons one of them being that he was a teacher who taught his students Kurdish using Latin scripts He was detained in February 1989 and executed on 13 March 2019 He was never seen again dead or alive His body was never given back to his family Meriwani s story speaks volumes It is the story of intellectuals writers and activists who escaped Saddam Hussein s regime for international protection In fact many who did not leave Iraq just like his brother became victims of the regime Meriwani knows all about this He possesses first hand experiences Meriwani s life is a narrative for his generation of intellects who were not tolerated in Iraq Saddam s regime engineered society to give life to those who served himself and his regime His departure from Iraq to his second home Sweden silenced him for years as he was engaged in finding a new voice and of course a life for himself He returned to poetry with a fresh breath that was different from Kurdish Iraqi or other Middle Eastern poetry He writes in the Kurdish language albeit with a different style which is neither fully Western nor Middle Eastern Meriwani has been in exile for over four decades almost three quarters of his life During this time the regions of his homeland were stormed by socio political changes some of which influenced him directly for example the execution of his older brother the death of his parents joining six members of his siblings in exiles losing numerous friends and extended family members in conflict adventures of the Iraqi regime As Meriwani possesses no published collection in any language I have selected the upcoming body of poetry mostly from his Kurdish manuscript that he provided to me I have given this selection a name I believe Departing is a suitable title for it Meriwani s poetry is overwhelmingly infused with departure whether it is his own departure from his friends and family or the eternal departure called death that we will all face eventually or the shift from one place to another or an individual displacement or a mass embarkment into absence I have then translated these poems from Kurdish my native language into English Here I need to clarify the nature of my work I have not re created the poetry in English I have done my best to keep the soul of the original poetry alive and intact Often I had to change the structure of a poem shift the line breaks or divide the stanzas to adjust it to the English language However despite my dedicated efforts I will always believe that translation is inherently unfair as it certainly and necessarily dilutes the original poetic language and rhythm and is often rid of its firstborn magic
