Fiela Se Kind Dalene Matthee:

Fiela's Child Dalene Matthee, 2011-12-15 Set in nineteenth century rural Africa Fiela's Child tells the gripping story of Fiela Komoetie and a white three year old child Benjamin whom she finds crying on her doorstep For nine years Fiela raises Benjamin as one of her own children But when census takers discover Benjamin they send him to an illiterate white family of woodcutters who claim him as their son What follows is Benjamin's search for his identity and the fundamental changes affecting the white and black families who claim him Everything a novel can be convincing thought provoking upsetting unforgettable and timeless Grace Ingoldby New Statesman Fiela's Child is a parade that broadens and humanizes our understanding of the conflicts still affecting South Africa today Francis Levy New York Times Book Review A powerful creation of time and place with dark threads of destiny and oppression and its roots in the almost Biblical soil of a storyteller's art Christopher Wordsworth The Guardian The characters in the novel live and breathe and the landscape is so brightly painted that the trees birds elephants and rivers of old South Africa are characters themselves A book not to miss Kirkus Reviews Trauma, Memory, and Narrative in the Contemporary South African Novel, 2012-01-01 The contributions to this volume probe the complex relationship of trauma memory and narrative By looking at the South African situation through the lens of trauma they make clear how the psychic deformations and injuries left behind by racism and colonialism cannot be mended by material reparation or by simply reversing economic and political power structures Western trauma theories as developed by scholars such as Caruth van der Kolk Herman and others are insufficient for analysing the more complex situation in a postcolony such as South Africa This is because Western trauma concepts focus on the individual traumatized by a single identifiable event that causes PTSD Post Traumatic Stress Disorder What we need is an understanding of trauma that sees it not only as a result of an identifiable event but also as the consequence of an historical condition in the case of South Africa that of colonialism and more specifically of apartheid For most black and coloured South Africans the structural violence of apartheid's laws were the existential condition under which they had to exist The living conditions in the townships pass laws relocation and racial segregation affected great parts of the South African population and were responsible for the collective traumatization of several generations This trauma however is not an unclaimed and unclaimable experience Postcolonial thinkers who have been reflecting on the experience of violence and trauma in a colonial context writing from within a Fanonian tradition have on the contrary believed in the importance of reclaiming the past and of transcending mechanisms of victimization and resentment so typical of traumatized consciousnesses Narration and the novel have a decisive role to play here A Grammar of Afrikaans Bruce C. Donaldson, 1993 The series builds an extensive collection of high quality descriptions of languages around the world Each volume offers a comprehensive grammatical description of a single language together with fully analyzed sample texts and if appropriate a word list and other relevant information which is available on the language in question There are no restrictions as to language family or area and although special attention is paid to hitherto undescribed languages new and valuable treatments of better known languages are also included No theoretical model is imposed on the authors the only criterion is a high standard of scientific quality
