Of Buckingham Palace District Six:

"Buckingham Palace", District Six Richard Rive, 1986 Buckingham Palace is a dingy row of five houses in the heart of District Six a notorious slum area at the foot of Table Mountain overlooking Cape Town In this lively novel Richard Rive traces this close community through its moments of triumph and despair its loves its hatreds and its bizarre characters

Buckingham Palace, District Six, 2006 Buckingham Palace, District Six Richard Rive, 2006 District Six was an area of Cape Town that was inhabited by poor people of different racial backgrounds but particularly Coloureds and Malays until the 1960s This novel tells the story over 15 years of a group of people who lived in a row of houses called Buckingham Palace Slowly their lives become affected by the Group Areas Act which designated District Six as a white only district Buckingham Palace District Six shows the heavy price individuals and communities had to pay under the apartheid regime of South Africa Page 4 of cover

Extracts from Buckingham Palace, District Six Richard Rive, 2004 'Buckingham Palace', District Six Bonnie Gosher, 2007 The Emergence of the South African Metropolis Vivian Bickford-Smith, 2016-05-16 A pioneering account of how South Africa's three leading cities were fashioned experienced promoted and perceived

'Buckingham Palace', District Six, by Richard Rive, 1992 The Palgrave Handbook of Literature and the City Jeremy Tambling, 2017-02-17 This book is about the impact of literature upon cities world wide and cities upon literature It examines why the city matters so much to contemporary critical theory and why it has inspired so many forms of writing which have attempted to deal with its challenges to think about it and to represent it Gathering together 40 contributors who look at different modes of writing and film making in throughout the world this handbook asks how the modern city has engendered so much theoretical consideration and looks at cities and their literature from China to Peru from New York to Paris from London to Kinshasa It looks at some of the ways in which modern cities whether capitals shanty towns industrial or rust belt have forced themselves on people's ways of thinking and writing

South Africa and the Dream of Love to Come Brenna M. Munro, 2012 Uncovers the story of how the politics of queer sexuality have played out in the struggle for multiracial democracy in South Africa Grounds of Engagement Stéphane Robolin, 2015-08-30 Part literary history part cultural study Grounds of Engagement examines the relationships and exchanges between black South African and African American writers who sought to create common ground throughout the antiapartheid era Stéphane Robolin argues that the authors geographic imaginations crucially defined their individual interactions and ultimately the literary traditions on both sides of the Atlantic Subject to the tyranny of segregation authors such as Richard Wright Bessie Head Langston Hughes Gwendolyn Brooks Keorapetse Kgositsile Michelle Cliff and Richard Rive charted their racialized landscapes and invented freer alternative geographies They crafted rich representations of place to challenge the stark social and spatial arrangements that framed their lives Those representations Robolin contends also articulated their desires for black transnational belonging and political solidarity The first book to examine U S and South African literary exchanges in spatial terms Grounds of Engagement identifies key moments in the understudied history of black cross cultural exchange and exposes how geography serves as an indispensable means of shaping and reshaping modern racial meaning

Voices of Justice and Reason Geoffrey V. Davis, 2003 Over the past fifty years transformations of great moment have taken place in South Africa Apartheid and the subsequent transition to a democratic non racial society in particular have exercised a profound effect on the practice of literature This study traces the development of literature under apartheid then seeks to identify the ways in which writers and theatre practitioners are now facing the challenges of a new social order The main focus is on the work of black writers prime among them Matsemela Manaka Mtutuzeli Matshoba and Richard Rive who as politically committed members of the oppressed majority bore witness to the black experience through their writing Despite the draconian censorship system they were able to address the social problems caused by racial discrimination in all areas of life particularly through forced removals the migrant labour system and the creation of the homelands Their writing may be read both as a comprehensive record of everyday life under apartheid and as an alternative cultural history of South Africa Particular attention is paid to theatre as a barometer of social change in South Africa The concluding chapters consider how in the current period of transition writers and arts institutions have set about reassessing their priorities redefining their function and seeking new aesthetic directions in taking up the challenge of imagining a new society

Beyond Collective Memory Cullen Goldblatt, 2020-09-14 Beyond Collective Memory analyzes how two African places became icons of collective memory for certain publics yet remain marginal to national and continental memory discourses Thiaroye a Senegalese location of colonial era massacre and District Six a South African neighborhood destroyed under apartheid have epitomized a shared memory of racist violence and resistant community Analyzing diverse cultural texts surrounding both places this book argues that the metaphor of collective memory has obscured the structural character of colonial and apartheid violence and made it difficult to explore the complicit positions that structures of violence produce In investigating the elisions of memory discourses Beyond Collective Memory challenges the dominance of collective memory and calls attention to the African pasts metaphors and imaginaries that exist beyond it

The Spirit of Place Malcolm Venter, 1992

Leadership, 1987

Every Step of the Way Michael Morris, 2004 Every Step of the Way celebrates the tenth anniversary of South Africa's first democratic election but also seeks to widen and promote a conversation about South Africa's contested pasts
