2. Mounting The Scope

CAUTION: Always ensure your rifle is UNLOADED, UNCOCKED and the safety is applied before fitting the scope. Practice safe handling procedures at all times.

- Loosen the mounting screws (A-B) on the base of the mounts.
- Fit the ring lower to the mount rail of the rifle, adjust and find a proper position.
- Place the scope onto the ring saddle, replace the top plate (C/D, E/F) of the ring and finger tighten.
- Put the rifle to your shoulder in your natural shooting position and adjust the scope's eye relief until you achieve a full field of view.
- When you have found the ideal eye relief rotate the scope so the reticle (crosshair) are vertical and perpendicular to the rifle.
- Tighten the screws on the ring to ensure a firm grip on the scope.

NOTE: Do not over tighten the screws as you could cause damage to the scope body.

3. Variable Power Adjustments (If Available)

To change the magnification, simply rotate the magnification ring to align the desired magnification with the index dot.

4. Adjusting Parallax and Focus

For Parallax Adjustable Model

- Set the magnification ring (if available) to the target setting. Aim the scope at the clear sky or a white background.
- Adjust the first focus eyepiece until crescent or sharpest focus.
- Rotate the parallax adjustment ring to the desired distance setting and the target is in the sharpest focus and the center of the crosshair stays on the target while you examine the image by slightly moving your head.

For Parallax Fixed Model

- Set the magnification ring (if available) to the target setting.
- Aim the scope at a target located at the distance of the Parallax preset yardage. Adjust the first focus eyepiece until both crosshair and the target is sharpest focus.

5. Red, Green or Blue Illuminated Reticle

Your scope is designed with crosshairs that illuminated in red, green, or blue for ease of use. To use the Illumination feature:

- Remove the battery cover from the Illumination dial by turning counter clockwise.
- Insert one CR2032/3V (or lithium battery into the compartment with the "+" side up.
- Replace and tighten the cover in by turning it clockwise.
- Turn the responsive Illumination dial to illuminate the red, green, or blue crosshairs. The brightness will change as you turn the dial. The markings on the dial show the color and intensity of the light. Lining the "1", "10", or "50" up with the index dot will turn the Illumination off.

6. Zeroing the Scope

The purpose of zeroing the scope is to ensure that the scope is aligned with the impact point of the pellet or bullet from the rifle. Before zeroing the scope, read the following adjustment knob instructions carefully.

Note: the windage and elevation adjustment knobs have a unique ratcheting screw design. A hex wrench is provided with the scope for adjustment.

Zero Locking

MP®(MIL)® (MIL)® Zero Locking rings are set at "locked position" for a brand new scope.

- Tighten the zero locking ring by ratcheting clockwise. Do not over-tighten.
- When the zero locking ring is tightened, the windage or elevation adjustment knob is "locked".

The knob will not rotate, preventing any accidental movement to zero zero.

Zeroing

When the zero locking rings are in the unlocked position, the windage/elevation knobs can be rotated.

- Place a target 100 yards away.
- Ideally use a shooting device such as a target or shooting stand, set the scope at the highest magnification, aim at the center of the target and fire a test shot, if safe to do so.
- If the impact point of the pellet or bullet is exactly in the center of the target then the scope is zeroed. If it is not, you will need to adjust the reticle using the elevation and/or windage adjuster.
- Vertical Adjustment (Elevation) - Use your fingers to turn the adjusting knob as required. One click in either direction equates approximately 1/4 inch at 100 yards.
- Horizontal Adjustment (Windage) - Use your fingers to rotate the adjusting knob as required. One click in either direction equates approximately 1/4 inch at 100 yards.
- Having adjusted the windage and elevation as required, fire, if safe to do so, another test shot. Keep adjusting and test firing until the bullet just impacts on the center of the target when the scope is on the center of the target. This is vital for accurate shooting.

Note: Each click of adjustment moves the impact point by the amount shown in the table below.

MP®	MP100®	MP100M®	MP100M®
1/8"	1/8"	1/4"	1/4"

Zero Re-setting

Check your scope is zeroed, rotate the zero locking ring to lock zero. The "0" marking may not align to the indexing white dot at the original center position now. Optionally, you can use the following steps to re-set zero by rotating the "0" marking to the indexing white dot.

- Ensure zero is "locked".
- Use the hex wrench to turn the zero setting hex screw counter clockwise to disengage the W/E knob. (IMPORTANT: Be gentle with the screw adjustment. Do not over extend the rotation. Stop when you feel resistance.)
- When the W/E knob is disengaged, rotating the knob will not produce any clicking sound and will not affect zero. You can re-position the "0" marking to the indexing white dot. (If you get clicks when rotating the W/E knob, the knob was not properly disengaged. You need to go back and re-start from zeroing your scope.)
- Before tightening the zero setting hex screw, turn the Zero Locking Ring counter clockwise.
- Be careful to keep the W/E knob still now that it is unlocked. Use the hex wrench to gently tighten down the zero setting hex screw to complete zero setting. (If you get clicks when rotating the W/E knob, the knob was not properly disengaged. You need to go back and re-start from zeroing your scope.)
- MP®(MIL)®: Rotate the locking ring clockwise to lock zero immediately.

7. Range Estimating (For MIL-Dot Model Only)

Range estimating requires common knowledge/experience about your target's actual width or height. Use the MIL-Dot instruction card in the scope box for the specific formula for your scope model.
