The New Advertising Valerie K. Jones, Ruth E. Brown Ph.D., Ming Wang, 2016-09-19 The era of big data has revolutionized many industries including advertising This is a valuable resource that supplies current authoritative and inspiring information about and examples of current and forward looking theories and practices in advertising The New Advertising Branding Content and Consumer Relationships in the Data Driven Social Media Era supplies a breadth of information on the theories and practices of new advertising from its origins nearly a quarter of a century ago through its evolution to current uses with an eye to the future Unlike most other books that focus on one niche topic this two volume set investigates the overall discipline of advertising in the modern context It sheds light on significant areas of change against the backdrop of digital data collection and use The key topics of branding content interaction engagement big data and measurement are addressed from multiple perspectives With contributions from experts in academia as well as the advertising and marketing industries this unique set is an indispensable resource that is focused specifically on new approaches to and forms of advertising Readers will gain an understanding of the distinct shifts that have taken place in advertising They will be able to build their knowledge on frameworks for navigating and capitalizing on today's fragmented consumer focused digital media landscape and they will be prepared for what the future of advertising will likely bring

Social TV Cory Barker, 2022-06-27 Winner of the 2023 SCMS Media Industries Scholarly Interest Group Outstanding Book Award sponsored by the Center for Entertainment Media Industries On March 15 2011 Donald Trump changed television forever The Comedy Central Roast of Trump was the first major live broadcast to place a hashtag in the corner of the screen to encourage real time reactions on Twitter generating more than 25 000 tweets and making the broadcast the most watched Roast in Comedy Central history The trumproast initiative personified the media and tech industries utopian vision for a multi screen and communal live TV experience In Social TV Multi Screen Content and Ephemeral Culture author Cory Barker reveals how the US television industry promised but failed to deliver a social media revolution in the 2010s to combat the imminent threat of on demand streaming video Barker examines the rise and fall of Social TV across press coverage corporate documents and an array of digital ephemera He demonstrates that despite the talk of disruption the movement merely aimed to exploit social media to reinforce the value of live TV in the modern attention economy Case studies from broadcast networks to tech start ups uncover a persistent focus on community that aimed to monetize consumer behavior in a transitional industry period To trace these unfulfilled promises and flopped ideas Barker draws upon a unique mix of personal Social TV experiences and curated archives of material that were intentionally marginalized amid pivots to the next big thing Yet in placing this now forgotten material in recent historical context Social TV shows how the era altered how the industry pursues audiences Multi screen campaigns have shifted away from a focus on live TV and toward all day content streams The legacy of Social TV then is the further embedding of media and promotional material onto every screen
