UNHCR Assistance to Refugee Education UNHCR Technical Support Service, 1988 Forced Migration in Education: Challenges and Opportunities Vibeke Solbue, Yuka Kitayama, Ailbhe Kenny, 2026-03-05 Worldwide people are fleeing war climate change political and economic crises as well as persecution Almost half of these refugees however have no access to education While refugees are often included in research on immigrants in education they hold a unique position which warrants specific attention The educational policies and practices for refugees vary reflecting differing approaches to integration diversity and inclusiveness What is clear however is that education plays a crucial role in meeting the needs and rights of those seeking refuge This issue aims to explore and understand educational responses to refugee education Within educational research on immigration and inclusion refugees perspectives are often included but different challenges exist than for other migrants Therefore this Research Topic intends to gain increased knowledge about refugee education from a variety of contexts and differing perspectives in order to provide nuanced understandings of the field In particular the topic aims to highlight the transformational opportunities that refugees can offer that are often missed or silenced due to existing educational systems based on modernist national structures By gaining increased knowledge about the challenges of refugee education but also opportunities we hope to collectively challenge the field of education to better accommodate and facilitate educational experiences from both global and local perspectives Against this backdrop this Research Topic seeks to address refugees in education from varying contexts for instance education in refugee camps in separate introductory classes in preschool primary education secondary education adult education and higher education Different professional perspectives such as languages the arts as well as other subjects are of interest as well as broader topics such as the policies and rights of refugees in education Articles that present quantitative qualitative or mixed methods research are welcomed to show both breadth and depth in the topic Comparative studies are of interest as well as articles that employ narrative research

Comparative Perspectives on Refugee Youth Education Alexander W. Wiseman, Lisa Damaschke-Deitrick, Ericka L. Galegher, Maureen F. Park, 2019-05-22 This volume explores the shared expectations that education is a panacea for the difficulties that refugees and their receiving countries face This book investigates the ways in which education is both a dream solution as well as a contested landscape for refugee families and students Using comparative cross national perspectives across five continents the editors and contributors critically analyze the educational structures policies and practices intended to support refugee youth transition from conflict and post conflict zones to mainstream classrooms and schools in their new communities Global Perspectives on the Difficulties and Opportunities Faced by Migrant and Refugee Students in Higher Education Saeed, Sameerah Tawfeeq, Zhang, Min, 2023-06-12 Higher education has been a source of opportunity and achievement for migrants and refugees around the world It has provided them with the tools and knowledge to pursue careers and build lives in their new communities but it has also made them targets for discrimination Colleges and universities are often ill equipped to address the unique educational needs of their diverse student populations and many times the very institution that was meant to be a safe haven for them becomes their greatest barrier to success Today we are witnessing a crisis of higher education for migrants and refugees Global Perspectives on the Difficulties and Opportunities Faced by Migrant and Refugee Students in Higher Education focuses on the formal and informal educational opportunities that are available to migrant students as well as the barriers that prevent them from fully accessing these opportunities The book also discusses how the experiences of migrant and refugee students in higher education have evolved and the impact that this evolution has had on their educational experiences Finally the book considers the ways in which higher education institutions have responded to the educational needs of migrant and refugee students and the role that the education industry has played in this response both formally and informally Covering key topics such as immigration educational needs and displaced students this premier reference source is ideal for administrators policymakers scholars researchers academicians practitioners instructors and students

Investment in Second Language Learning and Higher Education Melissa Hauber-Özer, 2026-03-10 Builds on Norton's work on investment to contest pervasive deficit perspectives that portray refugees as helpless victims or a public burden Set in Türkiye the country with the largest number of refugees in the world this book expands the limited literature on higher education for refugees particularly the gap in research in displacement settings It examines the experiences of Syrian young adult refugees studying in Turkish universities highlighting the intersections between linguistic social economic and structural challenges and the students resourceful approaches to overcoming these barriers Their stories depict both unique and common experiences of accessing higher education during displacement and underscore the importance of quality language instruction interpersonal relationships and supportive faculty members It contests pervasive deficit perspectives that portray refugees as helpless victims or a public burden and calls into question assumptions about integration in the nation of asylum being the ideal long term outcome for refugees The book also lays a methodological foundation for future decolonizing work in applied linguistics centering the experiences of refugees and disrupting Northern dominance of forced migration scholarship The Right to Research Kate Reed, Marcia C. Schenck, 2023-01-15 Refugees and displaced people rarely figure as historical actors and almost never as historical narrators We often assume a person residing in a refugee camp lacking funding training social networks and other material resources that enable the research and writing of academic history cannot be a historian because a historian cannot be a person residing in a refugee camp The Right to Research disrupts this tautology by featuring nine works by refugee and host community researchers from across Africa Europe and the Middle East Identifying the intrinsic challenges of making space for diverse voices within a research framework and infrastructure that is inherently unequal this edited volume offers a critical reflection on what history means who narrates it and what happens when those long excluded from authorship bring their knowledge and perspectives to bear Chapters address topics such as education in Kakuma Refugee Camp the political power of hip hop in Rwanda women migrants to Yemen and the development of photojournalism in Kurdistan Exploring what it means to become a researcher The Right to Research understands historical scholarship as an ongoing conversation one in which we all have a right to participate Strategies, Policies and Directions for Refugee Education Enakshi Sengupta, Patrick Blessinger, 2018-10-08 This volume will provide educators at all levels with a research and evidence based understanding of the educational opportunities and challenges facing refugees The chapters focus on strategies and policies for providing education to the world's refugee populations People Forced to Flee United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, 2022-02-16 People in danger have received protection in communities beyond their own from the earliest times of recorded history The causes war conflict violence persecution natural disasters and climate change are as familiar to readers of the news as to students of the past It is 70 years since nations in the wake of World War II drew up the landmark 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees People Forced to Flee marks this milestone It is the latest in a long line of publications stretching back to 1993 that were previously entitled The State of the World's Refugees The book traces the historic path that led to the 1951 Convention showing how history was made by taking the centuries old ideals of safety and solutions for refugees to global practice It maps its progress during which international protection has reached a much broader group of people than initially envisaged It examines international responses to forced displacement within borders as well as beyond them and the protection principles that apply to both It reviews where they have been used with consistency and success and where they have not At times the strength and resolve of the international community seems strong yet solutions and meaningful solidarity are often elusive Taking stock today at this important anniversary is all the more crucial as the world faces increasing forced displacement Most is experienced in low and middle income countries and persists for generations People forced to flee face barriers to improving their lives contributing to the communities in which they live and realizing solutions Everywhere an effective response depends on the commitment to international cooperation set down in the 1951 Convention a vision often compromised by efforts to minimize responsibilities There is growing recognition that doing better is a global imperative Humanitarian and development action has the potential to be transformational especially when grounded in the local context People Forced to Flee examines how and where increased development investments in education health and economic inclusion are helping to improve socioeconomic opportunities both for forcibly displaced persons and their hosts In 2018 the international community reached a Global Compact on Refugees for more equitable and sustainable responses It is receiving deeper support People Forced to Flee looks at whether that is enough for what could and should help define the next 70 years

Improving Inclusivity in Higher Education Bhakti More, Seena Biju, Vinod Pallath, 2023-11-06 This book addresses issues of access that COVID 19 brought forth in higher education with a primary focus on Asian countries In looking to address SDG4 to promote inclusive and equitable quality education for all the volume explores the challenges relating to educational exclusion by considering how specially abled students have been impacted by the digital divide in the context of the pandemic It puts a spotlight on the approaches experiences and case analyses from various geographies in the region to study transitions in inclusivity Universities and institutes of higher education have had to reconsider their digital offerings and services all the more since the onset of the pandemic but have in many instances failed to fully account for how Internet access can be limited unavailable or unaffordable for many students As a result specially abled learners students without sufficient technological resources such as those living in remote areas where there are little or no Internet facilities have been however unintentionally neglected While universities implemented their own practices processes and policies to reach and teach disadvantaged learners they had to further adapt these strategies re aligning them to meet the unprecedented circumstances and concomitant needs of specially abled learners and there is still much more to do This book consolidates regional perspectives on how to work towards goals of inclusivity and bridge the digital divide looking into and beyond the conditions of the pandemic Relevant to scholars and policymakers this book is of interest to those focused on digitisation and the transition to the new normal in higher education
