Riot Shashi Tharoor :

Riot Shashi Tharoor, 2001 The acclaimed author of The Great Indian Novel returns with this masterful new book. When a young American volunteer in India dies under mysterious circumstances during a Hindu and Muslim riot, her story unfolds like the Japanese classic Rashomon in which there are disturbingly different versions of events and everyone involved is convinced that he or she holds the truth. At once a story of love, hate, cultural collision, the ownership of history, and the impossibility of knowing the truth, this is a true tour de force. The Hindu Shakespeare Seattle Times

Studies in Indian English Fiction and Poetry Amar Nath Prasad, U. S. Rukhaiyar, 2003 Indian Writings in English Binod Mishra, Sanjay Kumar, 2006 Since its inception in the 19th century Indian writing in English has flourished worldwide and the English works of Indian authors have been highly appreciated even by the people of English speaking nations. Not remaining confined to the restricted gamut of themes and style of olden days Indian writing in English has made its dent in myriad human concerns at the hands of a great number of Indian writers. In the present anthology a sincere attempt has been made to provide an in depth study of the works of reputed Indian authors like Bhabani Bhattacharya, Amitabh Ghosh, Shashi Tharoor, Raj Kamal Jha, Arundhati Roy, Jhumpa Lahiri, Shobha De, Manju Kapur, Anita Nair, to name but a few. Aiming at encouraging variegated opinions without conforming to fixed and rigorous critical canons, the anthology not only focuses on novels but also on the other forms of literature that are brilliant evocations of historical, philosophical and social issues of great importance. It also traverses through psychological and subliminal issues. Contributors to the present anthology have explored the varied aspects of literary works of the noted and award winning writers. Besides analysing critically and impartially the question of equal rights for women raised by the eminent Indian writers in their works, it is hoped that Indian writings in English would prove indispensable for the students of English literature and would even appeal to those interested in the English works of Indian writers. It will undoubtedly kindle in readers an avid interest towards their works and also help them sharpen their critical understanding with its ample food for thought.

Indian English Literature

Basavaraj S. Naikar, 2007 In recent years the Indian English literature has made conspicuous progress in all its forms.

Mainly in Fiction and Poetry the present anthology aims at presenting an in-depth study of nineteen authors who are both established as well as upcoming writers: Toru Dutt, Nissim Ezekiel, Jayanta Mahapatra, R C Shukla, Rajendra Singh Mulk Raj Anand, Kamala Markandaya, Amitav Ghosh, Arundhati Roy, Shashi Tharoor, Shiv K Kumar, Shobha De, Intizar Husain, and Mahesh Dattani. Although the present anthology contains articles on Indian English poetry, fiction, and drama, fiction enjoys a prominent place since most of the authors included in the present volume for discussion are prescribed in the English syllabus in the various Indian universities. It is hoped that both the teachers and students will find the book extremely useful. Even the general readers who are interested in literature in English will find it intellectually stimulating.

Transcultural English Studies Frank Schulze-Engler, Sissy Helff, 2009. What is most strikingly new about the transcultural is its sudden ubiquity. Following in the wake of previous concepts in cultural and literary studies such as creolization, hybridity, and syncretism, and signalling a family relationship to terms such as transnationality, translocality, and transmigration, transcultural terminology has unobtrusively but powerfully edged its way into contemporary theoretical and critical discourse. The four sections of this volume denote major areas where transcultural questions and problematics have come to the fore: theories of culture and literature that have sought to account for the complexity of culture in a world increasingly characterized by globalization, transnationalization, and interdependence; realities of individual and collective life worlds shaped by the ubiquity of phenomena and experiences relating to transnational connections and the blurring of cultural boundaries; fictions in literature and other media that explore these realities, negotiate the fuzzy edges of ethnic or national cultures, and participate in the creation of transnational public spheres, as well as transcultural imaginations and memories; and finally pedagogy and didactics where earlier models of teaching other cultures are faced with the challenge of coming to terms with cultural complexity both in what is being taught and in the people it is taught to, and where target cultures have become elusive. The idea of locating culture and literature exclusively in the context of ethnicities or nations is rapidly losing plausibility throughout an English-speaking world that has long since been multi rather than monolingual. Exploring the prospects and contours of Transcultural English Studies thus reflects a set of common challenges and predicaments that in recent years have increasingly moved centre stage, not only in the New Literatures in English but also in British and American studies.

Supremely personal yet always probing and analytical, this brilliant collection of essays is part memoir, part literary criticism. A fluid and powerful writer, one of the best in a generation of Indian authors, New York Times Book Review. Shashi Tharoor, the acclaimed author of six books, all published by Arcade, is once again at his provocative best.    Writing Resistance Usha Bande, 2006. Based on 20th century

Indian English novels      Southern Postcolonialisms Sumanyu Satpathy, 2009 Southern Postcolonialisms is an anthology of critical essays on new literary representations from the Global South that seeks to re-invent/reorient the ideological disciplinary aesthetic and pedagogical thrust of Postcolonial Studies in accordance with the new and shifting politico-economic realities/transactions between the North and the South as well as within the Global South in an era of globalization. Since the emergence of Postcolonial Theory in the 1980s the shape of the world has changed dramatically. Old Cold War boundaries have shifted in the wake of the collapse of communism. Globalization on an unprecedented scale has dramatically changed the meaning of time and space. The rise of the US as a new imperial power has profound implications for the world order. In the South, new emerging markets have challenged the older division of industrial/the first world/the third world. In most parts of the world, the academy is struggling to keep up with these developments. One result has been a major transnational turn in the humanities and social sciences. Terms like world history, globalization, glocalization and transnationalism now dominate academic agendas worldwide. These changing circumstances raise far-reaching questions: What does the new emerging world order mean for established models of postcolonial theory? Is postcolonialism as a field of study being overtaken by models of globalization and transnationalism? What implications do the new configurations in the South have for postcolonial theory? This volume, drawn from a major literary conference at Delhi University, provides a set of perspectives on these questions. With a majority of contributions by scholars from the South, these research articles have a dual focus: they revisit older debates on postcolonial theory while suggesting new perspectives and directions.      Business World, 2001-09
