Worksheets Don't Grow Dendrites Marcia L. Tate, 2008-08-21 Engage students in effective meaningful experiences in mathematics Following the format of Marcia L Tate s previous bestsellers this user friendly guide offers math teachers 20 powerful brain based teaching strategies that incorporate visual auditory kinesthetic and tactile modalities to promote student engagement and achievement The book focuses on the NCTM focal points and includes a bibliography of math and literature resources and a lesson planning guide The chapters offer A what why and how for each strategy Specific brain compatible mathematics activities and lessons from real teachers across the country Space for teachers to reflect on and apply individual strategies in their lessons People of the Eye Rachel Locker McKee, 2001 Deaf people in New Zealand are often little known outside their own culture People of the Eye brings their world to life in personal histories translated into English with a series of photographs of the deaf community The storytellers are both old and young and they reflect both the diversity and commonality of deaf experience the painful lives of a generation brought up forbidden to use sign language contrasted with the confidence of young people using New Zealand Sign Language as they attend school and assert deaf pride The differences between children growing up in deaf families and those who struggle with identity as deaf children in hearing families are illuminating These are stories of joy and sadness confusion and resolution and regret and optimism

Prisoners of Time United States. National Education Commission on Time and Learning, 1994 The Education Council Act of 1991 established the National Education Commission on Time and Learning as an independent advisory body and called for a comprehensive review of the relationship between time and learning in U S schools This document serves as a supplementary volume to the commission s first report released in May 1994 which found that most school reform designs are structurally flawed by their adherence to a traditional school calendar This volume describes innovative approaches to the use of school time It provides nearly 40 examples of exemplary efforts to make better use of available time and extend the amount of time students spend learning The brief program descriptions are from 15 elementary schools 15 middle and senior high schools 4 districtwide efforts and 6 special programs They include public and private schools in rural urban and suburban areas from 26 states Information for reaching contact persons is provided A review of the programs indicates that many different kinds of schools and districts have already implemented many of the commission s recommendations The most
