Exploring the frozen past to rethink our warming future Do we really know what cold is In Arcticologies Lowell Duckert delves into early modern European texts to trace how representations of frigidity from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries have contributed to historical understandings of climate and contemporary debates on climate change Arguing that human culture and science are in fact indebted to the cold Duckert suggests that these early depictions offer critical terms for advancing the aims of climate change activism and assisting in counterapocalyptic thinking An imaginative and intellectual journey Arcticologies reveals the enduring role of cold in wide ranging storytelling traditions It draws on Shakespeare's Hamlet and Othello and the works of Thomas Dekker Ren Descartes and Thomas Hobbes and is informed throughout by contemporary Indigenous writing including that of Sheila Watt Cloutier and Leanne Betasamosake Simpson In reflecting on these assorted accounts Duckert sees cold as not only an environmental hardship but a source of cultural creativity and resilience highlighting moments of collaboration between humans and the icy world from arctic exploration to urban fairs on frozen rivers Cold Duckert makes clear is more than the absence of warmth Situating our contemporary obsession with impending planetary meltdown within the mazelike arcticologies of the past Duckert shows how early modern cold brought about forms of curiosity vocabulary and interspecies relationality that can serve us today In doing so he asks us to identify what has been lost and who is at risk in today's thinning cold while also urging us to imagine alternative futures focused not on inevitable and total collapse but on adaptation and preserving what remains Cold Tyranny and the Demonic North of Early Modern England Anne Cotterill, 2025-10-01 The seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries were among the worst years of the Little Ice Age This volume attends to English texts from this period to trace associations between wintry physical landscapes and an icy inner landscape of human cruelty and tyranny whose rigors promote the ultimate chill of rigor mortis Sailors seeking a polar route to the East brought terrifying reports of northern icescapes long popularly linked with the devil Simultaneously concerns about increasingly cold winters at home in Britain overlapped with increased scrutiny of kingship and the church and fear of tyranny from both Such fears were reflected in ongoing struggles between king and Parliament during the period leading to revolution and war The binding power of ice and the power of northern winters to deface kill and bury life suggested the Fall's human parallel to winter cold hearted humans as tyrannical winters who deal in death Correspondence of the Family of Hatton Sir Edward Maunde Thompson, Camden Society (Great Britain), 1878 The Real Story of the Pirate Alpheus Hyatt Verrill, 1923 Book-prices Current, 1911 The Student's American History David Henry Montgomery, 1916 Catalogue Maggs Bros, 1918 Transactions of the Asiatic Society of Japan Asiatic Society of Japan, 2008 List of transactions v 1 41 in v 41 The Discovery of Australia George Arnold
