The British Study Edition of the Urantia Papers Book [A4 PDF] , Higher Education Pathways Ashwin, Paul,Case, Jennifer M.,2018-12-14 In what ways does access to undergraduate education have a transformative impact on people and societies What conditions are required for this impact to occur What are the pathways from an undergraduate education to the public good including inclusive economic development These questions have particular resonance in the South African higher education context which is attempting to tackle the challenges of widening access and improving completion rates in a system in which the segregations of the apartheid years are still apparent Higher education is recognised in core legislation as having a distinctive and crucial role in building post apartheid society Undergraduate education is seen as central to addressing skills shortages in South Africa It is also seen to yield significant social returns including a consistent positive impact on societal institutions and the development of a range of capabilities that have public as well as private benefits This book offers comprehensive contemporary evidence that allows for a fresh engagement with these pressing issues

It's Legal But It Ain't Right Nikos Passas,Neve R. Goodwin,2004 Many U S corporations and the goods they produce negatively impact our society without breaking any laws We are all too familiar with the tobacco industry's effect on public health and health care costs for smokers and nonsmokers as well as the role of profit in the pharmaceutical industry's research priorities. It's Legal but It Ain't Right tackles these issues plus the ethical ambiguities of legalized gambling, the firearms trade, the fast food industry, the pesticide industry, private security companies, and more. Aiming to identify industries and goods that undermine our societal values and to hold them accountable for their actions, this collection makes a valuable contribution to the ongoing discussion of ethics in our time. Pacific Asia in Quest of Democracy Roland Rich, 2007. What does democracy look like in Pacific Asia? Can democratic governance in the region survive the challenges of corruption, violence, and soft authoritarianism? What impact are economic pressures likely to have? These are among the broad questions tackled in Pacific Asia in Quest of Democracy, a comparative study of democratic structures and practices in Indonesia, the Philippines, South Korea, Taiwan, and Thailand; the institutions and legal underpinnings of democracy; the roles of political parties and politicians; the significance of a changing political culture. He also draws on his long experience living and working in the region to explore the public conversations taking place and the media that facilitates them. Asia lacks a long democratic tradition; much more significant are the innovative democratic design and the enthusiasm for democratic participation exhibited there. Finance, Economics, and Economic Development, 2005 National Research Council (U.S.). Transportation Research Board, 2005. No. 1932 explores the replacement of declining fuel tax revenues in Oregon with fees based on vehicle miles traveled, variations in costs of highway investment compared to the Federal Highway Administration's Highway Economic Requirements System, the merits of no-queue tolling, time-of-day pricing, and auto restraint policies; how to create public support for road pricing proposals; and more. The Bulletin, 1989-05. Arizona Journal of International and Comparative Law, 2009. Turf, Field, and Farm, 1899.

Projecting Migration Alan Grossman, Aine O'Brien, 2007. Migration has rapidly become a fundamental component of modern life and increasingly determines who we are and how we define ourselves today. Projecting Migration is a groundbreaking multimedia book/DVD-ROM project that attempts to understand the phenomena of mobility and displacement through essays, films, photography, and audio recordings. Contributors have been on the ground in locations as diverse as the US-Mexico border, southern Africa, Lebanon, and Ireland, and each chapter is linked with DVD chapters of original footage, resulting in a dynamic account of migrant narratives which circumvent the distorting lens of news journalism. This cross-media collection, created in collaboration with the Centre for Transcultural Research and Media Practice at the Dublin Institute of Technology, marks a major transdisciplinary contribution to contemporary debates on migration.
