Confessions of a Presidential Speechwriter Craig R. Smith, 2014-02-01. An avid high school debater and enthusiastic student body president, Craig Smith seemed destined for a life in public service from an early age. As a sought-after speechwriter, Smith had a front-row seat at some of the most important events of the twentieth century: meeting with Robert Kennedy and Richard Nixon, advising Governor Ronald Reagan, writing for President Ford, serving as a campaign manager for a major U.S. senator's reelection campaign, and writing speeches for a contender for the Republican nomination for president. Life in the volatile world of politics wasn't always easy, however, and as a closeted gay man, Smith struggled to reconcile his private and professional lives. In this revealing memoir, Smith sheds light on what it takes to make it as a speechwriter in a field where the only constant is change. While bouncing in and out of the academic world, Smith transitions from consultantships with George H.W. Bush and the Republican caucus of the U.S. Senate to a position with Chrysler CEO Lee Iacocca. When Smith returns to Washington, D.C. as president and founder of the Freedom of Expression Foundation, he becomes a leading player on First Amendment issues in the nation's capital. Returning at long last to academia, Smith finds happiness coming out of the closet and reaping the benefits of a dedicated and highly successful career.

Closer to the Truth Than Any Fact Jennifer Jensen Wallach,2010-04-01 Although historians frequently use memoirs as source material too often they confine such usage to the anecdotal and there is little methodological literature regarding the genre's possibilities and limitations This study articulates an approach to using memoirs as instruments of historical understanding Jennifer Jensen Wallach applies these principles to a body of memoirs about life in the American South during Jim Crow segregation including works by Zora Neale Hurston Willie Morris Lillian Smith Henry Louis Gates Jr William Alexander Percy and Richard Wright Wallach argues that the field of autobiography studies which is currently dominated by literary critics needs a new theoretical framework that allows historians too to benefit from the interpretation of life writing Her most provocative claim is that due to the aesthetic power of literary language skilled creative writers are uniquely positioned to capture the complexities of another time and another place Through techniques such as metaphor and irony memoirists collectively give their readers an empathetic understanding of life during the era of segregation Although these reminiscences bear certain similarities it becomes clear that the South as it was remembered by each is hardly the same place
