Invasions Christian K. Melby, 2025-04-15 Invasions is an ambitious new and authoritative study of one of the defining cultural products of the Victorian and Edwardian eras. By the outbreak of war in 1914, invasion scare fiction had profoundly changed British society, becoming not just a vibrant part of popular culture but a reference point among military planners, advertisers, and politicians. This intersection between politics and culture, between entertainment and war planning, sets invasion scare stories apart as one of the most versatile and interesting fictional products in modern British history. Building on recent work in both history and literature studies, Invasions is the first study of invasion scare fiction to examine both the form that is fiction and the function, the political argument, of the genre.

The Inner Life of the Dying Person Allan Kellehear, 2014-06-03 This unique book recounts the experience of facing one's death solely from the dying person's point of view, rather than from the perspective of caregivers, survivors, or rescuers. Such unmediated access challenges assumptions about the emotional and spiritual dimensions of dying, showing readers that along with suffering, loss, anger, sadness, and fear, we can also feel courage, love, hope, reminiscence, transcendence, transformation, and even happiness as we die. A work that is at once psychological, sociological, and philosophical, this book brings together testimonies of those dying from terminal illness, old age, sudden injury, or trauma; acts of war and the consequences of natural disasters and terrorism. It also includes statements from individuals who are on death row, in death camps, or planning suicide. Each form of dying addressed highlights an important set of emotions and narratives that often eclipses stereotypical renderings of dying and reflects the numerous contexts in which this journey can occur, outside of hospitals, nursing homes, and hospices. Chapters focus on common emotional themes linked to dying, expanding and challenging them through first-person accounts and analyses of relevant academic and clinical literature in psycho-oncology, palliative care, gerontology, military history, anthropology, sociology, cultural, and religious studies, poetry, and fiction. The result is an all-encompassing investigation into an experience that will eventually include us all and is more surprising and profound than anyone can imagine.
