Wine and Culture Rachel E. Black, Robert C. Ulin, 2013-08-01 Wine is one of the most celebrated and appreciated commodities around the world. Wine writers and scientists tell us much about varieties of wines, winegrowing estates, the commercial value, and the biochemistry of wine, but seldom address the cultural, social, and historical conditions through which wine is produced and represented. This path-breaking collection of essays by leading anthropologists looks not only at the product but also beyond this to disclose important social and cultural issues that inform the production and consumption of wine. The authors show that wine offers a window onto a variety of cultural, social, political, and economic issues throughout the world. The global scope of these essays demonstrates the ways in which wine changes as an object of study, commodity, and symbol in different geographical and cultural contexts. This book is unique in covering the latest ethnography, theoretical, and ethnohistorical research on wine throughout the globe. Four central themes emerge in this collection: terroir, power, and place; commodification and politics; and technology and nature. The essays in each section offer broad frameworks for looking at current research with wine at the core. ¡Ánimo! The Once a Week Spanish Class E. Charland, M.

Wegbreit, 2012-04-18 Help your students form a solid basis of the Spanish language. Written for a one to two hour per week Spanish class for students in grades 3-8, this book covers over 300 vocabulary words and short phrases. Most importantly, this text, along with the instructor's edition, provides extensive practice and review so that students can return to class the following week having mastered the material. Topics include conjugation of verbs in the present tense, sentence structure, forming and answering questions in Spanish, telling time, talking about the weather, polite conversation, the city, the farm, the home, numbers to 60, the family, the classroom, the parts of the body, and Las cuatro novelas Félix Romeo, 2013-02-21

Toda la obra narrativa de Félix Romeo en un solo volumen Lola Arthur Griffiths, 1877 ¡Aplauso! Hispanic Children's Theater Joe Rosenberg, 1995-04-30 In this milestone collection, the noted director of the award-winning Bilingual Theater, Joe Rosenberg, has brought together a selection of successfully staged and critically acclaimed Hispanic plays for children. Aplauso is innovative in its offering of plays in English, Spanish, and bilingual formats and will be a welcome addition to all school and public libraries. Globalized Nostalgia Christina M. Ceisel, 2018-06-19 In Globalized Nostalgia, Christina Ceisel shows how national identity is being remade for the global marketplace. Through media, cultural events, foodways, and personal narratives, we see how notions of the past are mobilized towards varied political, economic, and cultural ends. In Galicia, Spain, Ceisel points towards tourism as one mode of cosmopolitan engagement, revisiting food festivals, wine tours, fishing excursions, and reality television shows. She identifies globalized nostalgia as a feeling deeply connected to national identity that these performances of tourist activity rely on claims to an authentic past based on heritage for value to the consumer. While such strategies work to brand the nation, Ceisel demonstrates how they may also be employed towards emancipation and an inclusive participatory democracy. Placing her own lived experience within the context of our historical present relying on interpretive methods including performance autoethnography Ceisel highlights the tensions embedded in contemporary transnational cultural politics Through the development of innovative methodological tools Ceisel points towards new ways of thinking about the politics of belonging Ultimately Ceisel argues that we need to reorient our understandings of authenticity and heritage to accommodate the realities of hybridity and diaspora

Postcolonial Approaches to Latin American Children's Literature Ann González, 2018-01-31 In this volume González explores how the effects of a traumatic colonial experience are re-presented to Latin American children today almost two centuries after the dismantling of colonialism proper Central to this study is the argument that the historical constraints of colonialism neocolonialism and postcolonialism have generated certain repeating themes and literary strategies in children's literature throughout the Spanish speaking Americas From the outset of Spanish domination fundamental tensions emerged between the colonizers and native groups that still exist to this day Rather than a felicitous mixing of these two opposing groups the mestizo is caught between contrasting worldviews contending explanations of reality and different values beliefs and epistemologies that is different ways of seeing and knowing Postcolonial subjects experience these contending cultural beliefs and practices as a double bind a no win situation in which they feel pressured by mutually exclusive expectations and imperatives Latin American mestizos therefore are inevitably conflicted Despite the vastness of the geography in question and the innumerable variations in regional histories oral traditions and natural settings these contradictory demands create a pervasive dynamic that penetrates the very fabric of society showing up intentionally or not in the stories passed from generation to generation as well as in new stories written or adapted for Spanish speaking children The goal of this study therefore is to examine a variety of children s texts from the region to determine how national and hemispheric perceptions of reality identity and values are passed to the next generation This book will appeal to scholars in the fields of Latin American literary and cultural studies children s literature postcolonial studies and comparative literature
