second objective is with the examples given to encourage the practice of classroom assessment and research and his third objective is to promote the idea of curriculum leadership The publication is divided into four main parts Part I demonstrates how the underpinnings of education history philosophy psychology sociology determine the aims and objectives of the curriculum and the curriculum s internal structure which integrates assessment content teaching and learning Part II focuses on the curriculum itself considering such key issues as content organization trends and change A chapter on interdisciplinary and integrated study and a chapter on project and problem based models of curriculum are included Part III examines problem solving creativity and design Part IV delves into teaching assessment and evaluation beginning with a chapter on the lecture cooperative learning and teamwork The book ends with a brief insightful forecast of the future of engineering education Because this is a practical tool and reference for engineers each chapter is self contained and may be read independently of the others Unlike other works in engineering education which are generally intended for educational researchers this publication is written not only for researchers in the field of engineering education but also for all engineers who teach All readers acquire a host of practical skills and knowledge in the fields of learning philosophy sociology and history as they specifically apply to the process of engineering curriculum improvement and evaluation
