Artificial Intelligence in Recruiting. A Literature Review on Artificial Intelligence Technologies, Ethical Implications and the Resulting Chances and Risks Matthias Rudolph, 2021-01-07 Master s Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject Computer Sciences Artificial Intelligence grade 1 3 Friedrich Alexander University Erlangen Nuremberg Wirtschaftsinformatik language English abstract The thesis aims to analyze this field of tension between the benefits and risks caused by the introduction of AI into recruiting based on a systematic analysis of academic publications To the knowledge of the author neither a literature review on ethical challenges of AI based recruiting tools nor an overview addressing application fields and the resulting ethical risks has been published so far Consequently this thesis aims to close this research gap by disclosing how AI technologies affect the recruiting process and how ethical challenges arising from the implementation of AI based tools are addressed in the same publications Consequently research question RQ one RQ1 and RQ two RQ2 can be derived Which AI technologies are applied in the field of recruiting and how do they influence the recruiting process Which major ethical challenges arise from the introduction of AI into recruiting and how are these challenges addressed by the proposed AI based tools Addressing these two RQs the remainder of this thesis is structured as follows Chapter 2 classifies recruiting and its subprocesses as a part of Human Resources HR establishes a common understanding of AI and machine learning ML algorithms relevant in AI based recruiting tools and derives major ethical challenges with a focus on the ethical principles fairness and transparency In chapter 3 the methodical approach used for identifying and selecting relevant literature is described Chapter 4 answers both RQs based on the AI based recruiting tools included in the literature set In turn the first part of the analysis focuses on analyzing how the needs raised through traditional recruiting means are addressed by AI based recruiting tools also touching base on the underlying technologies The second part addresses if and where applicable how these publications incorporate fairness and transparency Subsequently chapter 5 discusses the main findings of the analysis of the literature set and provides implications for theory and practice followed by a brief conclusion and the outlining of limitations and future research fields in chapter 6

Deconstructing Digital Capitalism and the Smart Society Mel van Elteren, 2025-01-01 Today's critics of big online platforms tend to consider privacy breaches monopolistic practices and the deployment of surveillance technologies as the main problems Internet reformers suggest the answers to these issues reside in more and better regulations While the questions of privacy data and size are indeed important they are secondary however to a deeper set of concerns about platform ownership and control and who benefits from the current status quo This book examines these issues and offers an historical overview and in depth analysis of digital capitalism and its prevailing practices as it has become increasingly intertwined with various forms of online surveillance behavior modification and the delegation of managerial functions to algorithmic and automated systems in platform economies The approach taken extends to the wider array of data driven internet connected and automated systems that involve digital devices and technologies centered on three smart spaces the smart self the smart home and the smart city Antitrust and other regulatory measures by the European Union and the United States that are aimed at restraining platform capitalism are also discussed The focus in particular is on recent developments regarding artificial intelligence and their potentially harmful implications This is followed by a critical look at proposals for more far reaching institutional reforms revolving around the creation of forms of platform socialism that build partly on existing practices of platform cooperativism The book concludes with a diagnosis of the global situation among the competing digital empires the United States the European Union and China and considers whether or not under the present conditions any form of democratic platform socialism could materialize on a wider scale in the near future
