Google Maps Hacks Rich Gibson, Schuyler Erle, 2006-01-17 Want to find every pizza place within a 15 mile radius Where the dog parks are in a new town The most central meeting place for your class club or group of friends The cheapest gas stations on a day to day basis The location of convicted sex offenders in an area to which you may be considering moving The applications serendipitous and serious seem to be infinite as developers find ever more creative ways to add to and customize the satellite images and underlying API of Google Maps Written by Schuyler Erle and Rich Gibson authors of the popular Mapping Hacks Google Maps Hacks shares dozens of tricks for combining the capabilities of Google Maps with your own datasets Such diverse information as apartment listings crime reporting or flight routes can be integrated with Google's satellite imagery in creative ways to yield new and useful applications The authors begin with a complete introduction to the standard features of Google Maps The adventure continues with 60 useful and interesting mapping projects that demonstrate ways developers have added their own features to the maps After that's given you ideas of your own you learn to apply the techniques and tools to add your own data to customize and manipulate Google Maps Even Google seems to be tacitly blessing what might be seen as unauthorized use but maybe they just know a good thing when they see one With the tricks and techniques you'll learn from Google Maps Hacks you'll be able to adapt Google's satellite map feature to create interactive maps for personal and commercial applications for businesses ranging from real estate to package delivery to home services transportation and more Includes a foreword by Google Maps tech leads Jens and Lars Rasmussen

From an Idea to Google Lowey Bundy Sichol, 2019 Presents the history of the founding of Google and the development of its search engine the innovations and acquisitions it made after the firm went public and how it is preparing for future expansion and new capabilities

Google and the Mission to Map Meaning and Make Money Bart Milner, 2004 This book is the unfolding story of the new technology of Internet Search how Larry Page and Sergey Brin the founders of Google discovered a new way to index the Internet's network of networks by developing Search methods so powerful that they effectively created a free public and universal library out of billions of random documents It also tells how together with the help of a brilliant team built initially at Stanford University they then found a new way of making money through contextual advertising now worth a billion leaving potential competitors particularly Microsoft far behind It shows how Google's founders have also succeeded in insisting that integrity rather than profit remains at the heart of an enterprise that they will continue to control despite the best efforts of Wall Street The second half of this book also seeks to explain the central problems of machine intelligence the difference between words and their meaning or syntax and semantics which had blocked this kind of IT development for half a century until Google's founders discovered that hypertext the unique feature of the Internet that links documents could be measured and mapped to sort millions of apparently similar pages for relevance and significance Google's pursuit of a hugely ambitious and optimistic American dream that leaves them globally admired and respected keeping their principles intact whilst also creating a fabulously wealthy company is a winning blend of luck jokes mathematical inspiration engineering perspiration deep technical knowledge of the Internet and they would have you believe thousands of highly trained pigeons The book is 288 pages long including a comprehensive index and 600 item bibliography covering virtually all aspects of Internet Search The print version of the book comes with a free online electronic version with hypertext links to related articles and books designed to make any aspect of the history of Internet search easy to find with a couple of mouse clicks The book's author Bart Milner is a trained technology journalist and editor who started using the Web in 1984 with a 300 baud acoustic coupler and then became a developer partly to try and solve the question of why computer logic has been unable to deal with meaning and association This background has given him an insight into the inspired but almost accidental way that Google's founders cracked the problem of finding a significant document from billions of unindexed and changing Web pages in a fraction of a second Anyone interested in the future of the Internet and Information Technology should enjoy this fast and fluid story of a company which has become a flagship business of the 21st century by not conceding any of its integrity and principles to the huge pressures of commercial profit whilst providing some of the most elegant and powerful engineering solutions ever seen on the Net
