Confessions of a Reformation Rev.
Mark Driscoll, 2009-05-26 This is the story of the birth and growth of Seattle's innovative Mars Hill Church one of America's fastest growing churches located in one of America's toughest mission fields It's also the story of the growth of a pastor the mistakes he's made along the way and God's grace and work in spite of those mistakes Mark Driscoll's emerging missional church took a rocky road from its start in a hot upstairs youth room with gold shag carpet to its current weekly attendance of thousands With engaging humor humility and candor Driscoll shares the failures frustrations and just plain messiness of trying to build a church that is faithful to the gospel of Christ in a highly post-Christian culture In the telling he's not afraid to skewer some sacred cows of traditional contemporary and emerging churches Each chapter discusses not only the hard lessons learned but also the principles and practices that worked and that can inform your church's ministry no matter its present size The book includes discussion questions and appendix resources After reading a book like this you can never go back to being an inwardly focused church without a mission Even if you disagree with Mark about some of the things he says you cannot help but be convicted to the inner core about what it means to have a heart for those who don't know Jesus Dan Kimball author The Emerging Church will make you laugh cry and get mad school you shape you and mold you into the right kind of priorities to lead the church in today's messy world Robert Webber Northern Seminary

Cameron Lee, Kurt Fredrickson, 2012-09-01 For those who are called to it pastoral ministry can be a source of deep joy But there are also challenges An increasing number of pastors seem to be burning out under the load Congregations may not be aware of the many and conflicting demands placed on a pastor's time and energies nor the pastor's need for rest and personal support That Their Work Will Be a Joy was written to encourage mutual understanding between pastors and congregations about the stresses of ministry The authors present five principles that will help ministry remain more of a joy than a burden Every chapter contains practical recommendations targeted specifically for pastors congregational leaders and even seminarians preparing for ministry A dozen personal responses to the book written as letters from people in ministry have been collected together at the end The book is helpful as a ministry preparation text a guide for those serving as pastors or as a discussion starter for pastors support groups It will help church committees smooth a pastoral transition or calm seminary graduates anticipating their first placement The hope is that stressed out pastors will recover their sense of vocation and congregations will begin to fulfill their calling as the body of Christ

The consumer revolution has accelerated dramatically. But something vital is missing in all of this change. Leadership has not kept with the changes going on in the world. From boardrooms to classrooms, leadership is being challenged on a daily basis. Yet now a new leadership model has been given. Dr. Covey introduces the four roles of the new leader: modelling, pathfinding, aligning, and empowering, and how those qualities can change you and your organisation. He discusses how trust can be lost throughout organisations and how it is imperative that any organisation bring trust back to the company if it is to survive. Covey also shows how to go from what he calls a "want to person" to a "can do person" and how doing so can completely transform people and organisations. Through his ideas, one will discover how to use the four vital roles to establish trust and make growth a given, build and sustain an atmosphere of respect and openness, keep and inspire your most talented workers, apply creative co-operation to reach new levels of performance.
