Macroeconomic Determinants of Economic Growth in Ethiopia. A Vector Correction Model Asmamaw Kassahun Agdew, 2019-10-07 Thesis M A from the year 2016 in the subject Economics Case Scenarios grade 3 89 language English abstract The main objective of this study is to investigate the macroeconomic determinants of economic growth in Ethiopia from 1974 2014 A Vector Error Correction Model VECM to cointegration approach is applied in order to investigate the long run and short run relationship between real GDP and its macroeconomic determinants The finding of the cointegration test shows that there is a stable long run relationship between real GDP gross domestic saving labor human capital export FDI foreign aid and external debt The long run empirical result reveals gross domestic saving human capital proxied by government expenditure on health and education and labor force have positive and significant relationship with real output However export and real GDP have positive but insignificant relationship External debt foreign aid and FDI have negatively significant relationship with real GDP during the study period The short run dynamic results shows that human capital saving and FDI have positive relationship with output growth whereas labor export aid and external debt have negative relationship with Real GDP The coefficient of equilibrating error term ECM suggests that the speed of adjustment feedback effect towards the long run equilibrium takes few years for full adjustment when there is a shock in the system In order to sustain long run growth the government or policy makers should design appropriate policies that results in the efficient use of resources contributing to economic growth and proper management of variables resulting to negative growth in order to reverse their effect on output

Economics and Development Studies Michael Tribe, Frederick Nixson, Andy Sumner, 2010-09-13 Development studies textbooks and courses have sometimes tended to avoid significant economic content However without an understanding of the economic aspects of international development many of the more complex issues cannot be fully comprehended Economics and Development Studies makes the economic dimension of discourse around controversial issues in international development accessible to second and third year undergraduate students working towards degrees in development studies Following an introductory chapter outlining the connections between development economics and development studies this book consists of eight substantive chapters dealing with the nature of development economics economic growth and structural change economic growth and developing countries economic growth and economic development since 1960 the global economy and the Third World developing countries and international trade economics and development policy and poverty equality and development economists with a tenth concluding chapter This book synthesizes existing development economics literature in order to identify the salient issues and controversies and make them accessible and understandable The concern is to distinguish differences within the economics profession and between economists and non economists so that the reader can make informed judgments about the sources of these differences and about their impact on policy analysis and policy advice The book features explanatory text boxes tables and diagrams suggestions for further reading and a listing of the economic concepts used in the chapters JUSTICE AND HUMAN DIGNITY IN AFRICA GMT EMEZUE, INGE KOSCH, MAURICE KANGEL, 2014-03-31 Justice and Human Dignity a collection of essays is an assemblage of critical and well researched essays projecting new theoretical and empirical hindsight from multidisciplinary perspectives This books will be of special interest to academics researchers and students of African Literature Children s Studies Languages and Linguistics Religion Media Studies History Economics Finance Political Science Leadership and Governance Peace and Conflict Studies Gender Studies and Studies in African Diaspora In all the essays provide new and veritable insights on how past and recent issues and challenges bordering on themes of Justice and Human Dignity affect Africa and Africans in the 21st century

International Economics Steven Husted, Michael Melvin, 2012-10-24 For students taking a course in International Economics Capture students attention with the issues and real data of today s most recent policy controversies International Economics is an accessible comprehensive and relevant guide for studying international economics Using real data and issues that motivate theoretical discussions this text captures students attention and equips them with a practical understanding of major policy questions History of Aid to Laos Viliam Phraxayavong, 2009 Originally presented as Thesis Ph D University of Sydney 2007 Checkmate! the US-Indonesia Bilateral Free Trade Agreement, 2007 The Challenges of Industrialization Nigerian Economic Society. Annual Conference, 2005 Normative Conditions to Make WTO Law More Responsive to the Needs of Developing Countries Philipp Scheuermann, 2010 Gender and Economic Development Elissa Braustein, 2011 Impact of Globalization on Rural Development Md. Mizanur Rahman, 2013-02-28 Research Paper undergraduate from the year 2013 in the subject Politics Topic Globalization Political Economics Thammasat University Bangkok National Institute of Development Administration NIDA Bangkok Thailand language English abstract In a globalized world the dynamics of rural development in Bangladesh has changed immensely Globalization free trade and privatization have brought about many positive and negative impacts on rural development This article tries to focus on three major impacts of globalization on rural development such as impact on environment poverty and women In responding to the research questions that how globalization affected environmental degradation what impact it has done on poverty reduction and women in Bangladesh the author used a combination of both quantitative and qualitative methods From the content analysis it was observed that globalization has seriously affected environment such as land degradation deforestation soil erosion soil fertility loss water logging salinity and toxification of soils damage and destruction of coral reefs mangroves fisheries loss of bio diversity and ecosystem pollution of air and water bodies etc that caused huge environmental disasters in Bangladesh The research findings relating to impact of globalization on poverty reduction unearthed the fact that due to huge remittance from the expatriate foreign labours exponential increases of agricultural growth especially in cereal crops and increase in labour cost have contributed to reduction of rural poverty in Bangladesh The increase of agricultural growth was the end result of massive privatization of agricultural sector in Bangladesh that in fact helped the rich farmers to adopt HYV and modern agricultural practices agrochemicals pesticides fertilizers and privatization also helped them availing of low cost tube wells and agricultural inputs increase of irrigation facilities But the poor farmers were hardly affected by the privatization strategy But the negative scenario in case of poverty is that globalization has increased income inequality in Bangladesh Lastly from both content analysis and case studies it was found that globalization has created employment opportunities of women in the garments industries RMG in the export processing zones of Bangladesh Mostly these women are the poverty stricken women who migrated to city areas from rural areas for employment but the foreign investors are exploited these women by providing a low salary and employed them excessive hours for ensuring their optimum production

The Struggle for Economic Development Michael P. Todaro,1983 Compilation of articles on economic and social development in developing countries covers underdevelopment development theories poverty population basic needs employment choice of technology income distribution education urbanization rural development economic development strategies incl Industrialization trade import substitution etc reviews role of multinational enterprises North South dialogue development planning etc Bibliography Rajshahi University Journal of Social Science and Business Studies ,2007

CEPAL Review ,2012 Economic Development in Sarawak, Malaysia Fumitaka Furuoka,2011 The Political Economy of Refugee Migration and Foreign Aid Mathias Czaika,2009-06-25 This book explores the determinants of forced migration and its political implications from an economic perspective It describes the distribution of burdens from forced migration across countries and analyzes the strategic interaction of national refugee policies to control refugee flows

The Development Economics Reader Giorgio Secondi,2008 This book draws together the most authoritative articles on development economics published in the past few years is aimed at undergraduate level and is suitable for students with little or no background in economics The main themes include poverty foreign aid agriculture and human capital and amongst those whose work appears cannot be counted Amartya Sen Jeffrey Sachs Jagdish Bhagwati Joseph Stiglitz Paul Romer Dani Rodrik William Easterly Robert Barro Kenneth Arrow Hernando de Soto Daron Acemoglu Muhammad Yunus Anne Krueger Abhijit Banerjee Esther Duflo Michael Kremer and Martin Feldstein The reader focuses on the most recent and up to date contributions to the field of development economics Instead of collecting classic contributions which are already available through many sources the articles chosen reflect recent developments in the discipline for instance in the area of geography and development and include contributions that address recent events the dramatic resurgence of a debt relief movement The Development Economics Reader should be an invaluable resource for all students of the discipline
