A Jungian Psychology Resource Guide Jim Arraj, 1987. The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator Rowan Bayne, 1997. The Myers Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) is a development of the work of Carl Jung who suggested the basic personality types of introversion and extraversion. This book offers a review of MBTI and looks at the possible practical applications. MBTI Manual, 1998. Three Keys to Self-Understanding Pat Wyman, 2001. Self-discovery can be an elusive process. Some people never fully express their true personalities because of obstacles from the past. Others float through life with a set of defense mechanisms that seem adequate until something happens to shake that pattern. In her groundbreaking work, Pat Wyman combines three psychological techniques to create a successful method of personal integration. The foundation of the work is a comparative exploration of how the MBTI instrument, the Enneagram, and Inner Child Healing can assist in self-discovery. In the end, it is a strikingly honest and poignant study of how a remarkable group of people dealt with tragedy and abuse and how they achieved healing through intense introspection and the use of these three modalities. Courageous clients share their stories, poems, artwork, and letters which are interwoven throughout the author's in-depth explanation of how to guide clients through this process.

Trajectories of Translation Kobus Marais, 2023-06-23. This book builds on Marais's innovative A Bio-Semiotic Theory of Translation to explore the implications of this conceptualization of translation as the semiotic work from which social-cultural reality emerges and chart the way forward for applications in empirical research. The volume brings together some of the latest developments in bio-semiotics, social semiotics, and Peircean semiotics with emergent work in translation studies towards better understanding the emergence of trajectories in society/culture through semiotic processes. The book further develops lines of thinking around thermodynamics in the work of Terrence Deacon to consider the ways in which ideas emerge from matter, creating meaning and its opposites, namely the ways in which ideas constrain matter. Marais links these theoretical strands to empirical case studies in the final three chapters towards operationalizing these concepts for further empirical work. This book is aimed at academics in the fields of translation studies, semiotics, multimodal/multimedial studies, cultural studies, and development studies. It will also be applicable to postgraduate students in these fields. The ENFP Advantage Nadjib Dali Ahmed, Do new ideas and human connection light you up?
