Doubling The Point Essays And Interviews:

Doubling the Point J. M. Coetzee, 1992 Nadine Gordimer has written of J M Coetzee that his vision goes to the nerve centre of being What he finds there is more than most people will ever know about themselves and he conveys it with a brilliant writer s mastery of tension and elegance Doubling the Point takes the reader to the center of that vision These essays and interviews documenting Coetzee s longtime engagement with his own culture and with modern culture in general constitute a literary autobiography Doubling the Point J. M. Coetzee, David Attwell, 1992-12-31 Nadine Gordimer has written of J M Coetzee that his vision goes to the nerve centre of being What he finds there is more than most people will ever know about themselves and he conveys it with a brilliant writer s mastery of tension and elegance Doubling the Point takes the reader to the center of that vision These essays and interviews documenting Coetzee s longtime engagement with his own culture and with modern culture in general constitute a literary autobiography Coetzee J. M., Doubling the Point Franz Kafka, 1992 Extravagant Postcolonialism Brian T. May, 2014-11-03 Brian T May argues that contrary to widely held assumptions of postcolonial literary criticism a distinctive subset of postcolonial novels significantly values and scrupulously explores a healthy individuality These extravagant postcolonial works focus less on collective social reality than on the intimate subjectivity of their characters Their authors most of whom received some portion of a canonical western education do not subordinate the ambitions of their fiction to explicit political causes so much as create a cosmopolitan rhetorical focus suitable to their western educated western trained audiences May pursues this argument by scrutinizing novels composed during the thirty year postindependence postcolonial era of Anglophone fiction a period that began with the Nigerian Chinua Achebe s Things Fall Apart and that ended many would say with the Ayatollah Khomeini s 1989 publication of the Rushdie Fatwa May contends that the postcolonial authors under consideration Naipaul Rushdie Achebe Rhys Gordimer and Coetzee inherited modernism and refashioned it His account of their work demonstrates how it reflects and transfigures modernists such as Conrad Eliot Yeats Proust Joyce and Beckett Tracing the influence of humanistic values and charting the ethical and aesthetic significance of individualism May demonstrates that these works of extravagant postcolonialism represent less a departure from than a continuation and evolution of modernism The Bloomsbury Handbook to J. M. Coetzee Lucy Valerie Graham, Andrew van der Vlies, 2023-08-24 J M Coetzee novelist essayist public intellectual and Nobel Laureate in Literature 2003 is widely recognized as one of the towering literary figures of the last half century With chapters written by leading and emerging scholars from across the world The Bloomsbury Handbook to J M Coetzee offers the most comprehensive available exploration of the variety range and significance of his work The volume covers a wealth of topics including The full span of Coetzee s work from his poetry to his essays and major fiction including Waiting for the Barbarians Disgrace and the Jesus novels Biographical details and archival approaches Coetzee s sources and influences including engagements with Modernism South African Australian Russian and Latin American literatures Interdisciplinary perspectives including on visual cultures music philosophy computational systems and translation The Bloomsbury Handbook to J M Coetzee provides indispensable scholarly perspectives covers emerging debates and maps the future direction of Coetzee studies Echoes of History, Shadowed Identities María José Chivite de León, Maria-José Chivite de León, 2010 This book addresses the recovery of submerged memories loss and trauma in self-avowed intertextual fiction while simultaneously exposing the tensions and untenability of any stable figuration of alterity Otherness thus posits a liminal and largely transversal site of resistance to monological representations of Western identity history and canon which are now displayed inherently crossbred and built on the occulting and alienating of difference With this in view the author carries out a close reading of the works and scholarly statements of J M Coetzee and Marina Warner by taking as the point of departure the intertextualist approaches that most attend to the phenomenon of alterity against the critical discourses of modern representation Fully installed in the revision of canon policies Foe and Indigo re-read Eurocentric institutionalised forms of othering at the same time they posit new and suggestive rehearsals of identity languages via literature Intertextual fiction thus turns out to be a powerful instrument to render alterity visible and agential in the discourses of reality Ultimately alterity is enabled to speak and invite social change and ethical awareness without denying the history of its alienation

Reading Veganism Emelia Quinn, 2021 Reading Veganism focuses on the iteration of the trope the monstrous vegan across two hundred years of Anglophone literature Through veganism's relation to utopian longing and challenge to the conceptual category of the human the book explores ways in which ethical identities can be written represented and transmitted Complicity and Responsibility in Contemporary African Writing Minna Johanna Niemi, 2021-05-03 This book investigates the many ways in which contemporary African fiction has reflected on themes of responsibility and complicity during the postcolonial period Covering the authors Ayi Kwei Armah Tsitsi Dangarembga Nuruddin Farah Michiel Heyns and J M Coetzee the book places each writer's novels in their cultural and literary context in order to investigate similarities and differences between fictional approaches to individual complicity in politically unstable situations In doing so the study focuses on these texts' representations of discomfiting experiences of being implicated in harm done to others in order to show that it is precisely during times of political crisis that questions of moral responsibility and implicatedness in compromised conduct become more pronounced The study also challenges longstanding western amnesia concerning responsibility for historical and present-day violence in African countries and juxtaposes this denial of responsibility with the western literary readership's consumption of narratives of African suffering The study instead proposes new reading habits based on an awareness of readerly complicity and responsibility Drawing insights from across political philosophy and literary theory this book will be of interest to researchers of African literature postcolonial studies and peace and conflict studies The Wounded Hero in Contemporary Fiction Susana Onega, Jean-Michel Ganteau, 2018-04-27 The Wounded Hero in Contemporary Fiction tracks the emergence of a new type of physically and/or spiritually wounded heroine in contemporary fiction Editors Susana Onega and Jean Michel Ganteu bring together some of the top minds in the field to explore the paradoxical lives of these heroes that have embraced rather than overcome their suffering alienation and marginalisation as a form of self definition

Critical Essays on J.M. Coetzee Sue Kossew,1998 This volume contains sixteen articles and essays linked by their attention to central issues raised in Coetzee's writing such as the relationships between autobiography and fiction literature and politics sexuality and textuality feminist poetics and fiction making and Apartheid Edited and introduced by Coetzee scholar Dr Sue Kossew this volume offers the reader an excellent opportunity to grasp the wide range of interpretations his books welcome Book Depository

Multiculturalism and American Democracy Symposium on Science, Reason, and Modern Democracy,1998 The fourteen essays in this volume address the pros and cons of multiculturalism and explore its relationship with liberal democracy

After Colonialism Gerald Gaylard,2005 Africa's imagination has been dominated and overshadowed by pressing social and political issues and its fiction has reflected this But in the late 20th and early 21st centuries this tendency has been challenged by the rise of experimental fiction This book examines this fiction and its contribution to the liberation of Africa's imagination
