Changing Places David Lodge, 2025-11-20      Volume 12, Tome IV: Kierkegaard's Influence on Literature, Criticism and Art Jon Stewart, 2016-12-05 While Kierkegaard is primarily known as a philosopher or religious thinker his writings have also been used extensively by literary writers critics and artists This use can be traced in the work of major cultural figures not just in Denmark and Scandinavia but also in the wider world They have been attracted to his creative mixing of genres his complex use of pseudonyms his rhetoric and literary style and his rich images parables and allegories The present volume documents this influence in the different language groups and traditions Tome IV examines Kierkegaard's surprisingly extensive influence in the Anglophone world of literature and art particularly in the United States His thought appears in the work of the novelists Walker Percy James Baldwin Flannery O'Connor William Styron Don DeLillo and Louise Erdrich He has also been used by the famous American literary critics George Steiner and Harold Bloom The American composer Samuel Barber made use of Kierkegaard in his musical works Kierkegaard has also exercised an influence on British and Irish letters W H Auden sought in Kierkegaard ideas for his poetic works and the contemporary English novelist David Lodge has written a novel Therapy in which Kierkegaard plays an important role Cryptic traces of Kierkegaard can also be found in the work of the famous Irish writer James Joyce      Kierkegaard's Influence on Literature, Criticism, and Art: The Anglophone world Jon Bartley Stewart, 2013 5 volumes t 1 The Germanophone world t 2 Denmark t 3 Sweden and Norway t 4 The Anglophone world t 5 The Romance languages Central and Eastern Europe      Intention Interpretation Gary Iseminger, 2010-08-12 an excellent and comprehensive discussion of a debate that was initiated in this century in William Wimsatt's and Monroe C Beardsley's influential article The Intentional Fallacy this is a splendidly conceived and very useful collection of essays Readers will want to take issue with the arguments of individual authors but this is to be expected in a volume at the cutting edge of a fertile philosophical controversy David Novitz The Philosophical Quarterly What is the connection if any between the author's intentions in while writing a work of literature and the truth acceptability validity of interpretive statements about it With this question Gary Iseminger introduces a literary debate that has been waged for the past four decades and is addressed by philosophers and literary theorists in Intention and Interpretation Thirteen essays discuss the role of appeals to the author's intention in interpreting works of literature A well known argument by E D Hirsch serves as the basic text in which he defends the appeal to the author's intention against Wimsatt and Beardsley's claim that such an appeal involved the intentional fallacy The essays mostly commissioned by the editor explore the presuppositions and consequences of arguing for the importance of the author's intentions in the way Hirsch does Connections emerge between this issue and many fundamental issues in metaphysics and the philosophy of mind as well as in aesthetics The old New Criticism and current Post Structuralism tend to agree in disenfranchising the author and many people now are disinclined even to consider the alternative Hirsch demurs and arguments like his deserve the careful attention both from critics and sympathizers that they receive here Literary scholars and philosophers who are sympathetic to Continental as well as to Anglo American styles of philosophy are among the contributors This is a timely book appearing as it does when postmodernist views of the death of the author are disappearing quickly from the scene As a collection it exemplifies the best work that is being done on this problem at the moment and it will no doubt inspire further debate The Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism This volume contains important articles illuminating the central debate over the role and relevance of authorial intentions in literary interoperation British Journal of Aesthetics
