Rethinking Disability Jan W. Valle, David J. Connor, 2019-02-05 Now in its second edition Rethinking Disability introduces new and experienced teachers to ethical framings of disability and strategies for effectively teaching and including students with disabilities in the general education classroom Grounded in a disability studies framework this text's unique narrative style encourages readers to examine their beliefs about disability and the influence of historical and cultural meanings of disability upon their work as teachers The second edition offers clear and applicable suggestions for creating dynamic and inclusive classroom cultures getting to know students selecting appropriate instructional and assessment strategies co-teaching and promoting an inclusive school culture This second edition is fully revised and updated to include a brief history of disability through the ages the relevance of current educational policies to inclusion technology in the inclusive classroom intersectionality and its influence upon inclusive practices working with families and issues of transition from school to the post school world Each chapter now also includes a featured voice from the field written by persons with disabilities parents and teachers

Rethinking Disability Jan W. Valle, 2011 Restrictive Practices in Health Care and Disability Settings Bernadette McSherry, Yvette Maker, 2020-12-13 This volume explores different models of regulating the use of restrictive practices in health care and disability settings The authors examine the legislation policies inspection enforcement and accreditation of the use of practices such as physical mechanical and chemical restraint They also explore the importance of factors such as organisational culture and staff training to the effective implementation of regulatory regimes In doing so the collection provides a solid evidence base for both the development and implementation of effective approaches to restrictive practices that focus on their reduction and ultimately their elimination across health care sectors Divided into five parts the volume covers new ground in multiple respects First it addresses the use of restrictive practices across mental health disability and aged care settings creating opportunities for new insights and interdisciplinary conversations across traditionally siloed sectors Second it includes contributions from research academics clinicians regulators and mental health consumers offering a rich and comprehensive picture of existing regulatory regimes and options for designing and implementing regulatory approaches that address the failings of current systems Finally it incorporates comparative perspectives from Australia New Zealand the Netherlands Germany and England The book is an invaluable resource for regulators policymakers lawyers clinicians consumer advocates and academics grappling with the use and regulation of restrictive practices in mental health disability and aged care contexts

Building Community to Create Equitable, Inclusive and Compassionate Schools through Relational Approaches Joan G Mowat, 2022-11-30 This book draws on an extensive international literature and policy context from a wide range of fields of enquiry to challenge the orthodoxies and systemic issues that serve to marginalise children and young people and lead the way for schools to become more equitable inclusive and compassionate in their practice With a particular focus on children with social emotional and behavioural mental health needs it critiques policy and practice as they pertain to behaviour management and school discipline in the UK and the USA and offers alternative perspectives based on collaborative and relational approaches to promoting positive behaviour and building community Each chapter features reflection points to provoke discussion as well as offering additional suggested reading culminating in a discussion of the role of school leaders in leading for social justice Ultimately this book will be of benefit to scholars researchers and students working in the fields of behaviour management inclusion and special needs education and education policy and politics more broadly It will also offer substantial appeal to education professionals school leaders and those with a locus on the mental health and wellbeing of children and young people

Rethinking Disability Jan Valle,2010 In response to concerns about teacher retention especially among teachers in their first to fourth year in the classroom we offer future teachers a series of brief guides full of practical advice that they can refer to in both their student teaching and in their first years on the job

Physical and Medical Conditions Associated with Autism Martina Micai,Mila Vulchanova,Valentina Riva ,David Saldaña,2024-07-02 Some specific physical and medical conditions are well recognized to be more common in autistic individuals compared to the general population e g sleep wake disorders epilepsy sensory impairments However the prevalence and the impact on autistic individuals and their families of other physical and medical conditions such as cardiovascular conditions cancer musculoskeletal conditions food intolerance allergies autoimmune problems diabetes and neurocutaneous disorders have yet to be established The presence of such co occurring conditions affects the success of treatment and worsens the quality of life of autistic individuals and their carers Importantly the awareness of the presence of specific physical and medical conditions associated with autism allows for targeted interventions and better outcomes

Disability Studies and the Inclusive Classroom Susan Baglieri,2012-05-04 This book s mission is to integrate knowledge and practice from the fields of disability studies and special education Parts I II focus on the broad foundational topics that comprise disability studies culture language and history and Parts III IV move into practical topics curriculum co teaching collaboration classroom organization disability specific teaching strategies etc associated with inclusive education This organization conforms to the belief that least restrictive environments the goal of inclusive education necessarily emerges from least restrictive attitudes the goal of disability studies Discussions throughout the book attempt to illustrate the intersection of theory and practice

Disability Studies and the Inclusive Classroom Susan Baglieri,2017-04-21 Disability Studies and the Inclusive Classroom is a core textbook that integrates knowledge and practice from the fields of disability studies and special education The second edition has been fully revised and updated throughout to include stronger connections between race class sexual orientation gender and disability to emphasize intersecting identities and experiences stronger emphasis on curriculum and teaching rather than on attitudes toward disability and updates to current events cultural references resources research literature laws and policies

Rethinking Disability Patrick Devlieger,2003 This book provides an interdisciplinary approach to the challenges of the interface between disability culture Twelve papers discuss the following topics Towards a cultural model of disability Disability Values Representations Realities Labeling Overrepresentation of Immigrants in Special Education / Die Überrepräsentation von MigrantInnen in der Sonderpädagogik Seyda Subasi Singh,2020 Dieses Buch diskutiert die berrepr sentation von Sch lerInnen mit Migrationshintergrund mit sonderp dagogischem F rderbedarf wobei in der Studie Sch lerInnen mit t rkischem Hintergrund in sterreich im Mittelpunkt stehen Es wird versucht Raum f r die Zusammenf hrung von Erfahrungen aus erster Hand zu schaffen um die Komplexit t des berweisungsprozesses anzugehen und ein Verst ndnis zu entwickeln das ber die Vereinfachung und lineare Erkl rungen f r die berrepr sentation von Sch lerInnen mit Migrationshintergrund in nicht vielversprechenden Schulen hinausgeht This book discusses the overrepresented referral of students from a migrant background to special education by concentrating on the case of students from a Turkish background in Austria It attempts to open space for bringing first hand experiences together to address the complexity of the referral process and to develop an understanding that goes beyond oversimplification and linear explanations for the overrepresentation of students from a migrant background in lowpromising schools Rethinking Disability Patrick Devlieger,Beatriz Miranda-Galarza,Steven E. Brown,Megan Strickfaden,2016-06-15 The act of life is a lived experience common and unique that ties each of us to every other lived experience The fact of disability does not alter this fundamental truth In this edition of Rethinking Disability World Perspectives in Culture and Society we are presented with a system of thinking that considers the values of disability as a resource as a creative source of culture that moves disability out of the realm of victimized people and insurmountable barriers and provides opportunities to use the experience of disability to enter into networks that recognize strengths of differing abilities The authors within will intrigue you will move you will charm you but always will challenge your notion of sameness and difference as they confront the construct and de construct of disability and ableism They present compelling arguments for viewing disABILITY through the multiple lenses of disability culture They explore themes and issues that transcend past and origins time and place nuances of genetics to experiences of present and becoming and towards the future and beyond mere human yet always intrinsically connected to being human This book is intended for all audiences who dare to confront difference and sameness within themselves and in connection with others to inspire researchers who wish to explore and examine disability across social cultural and economic barriers It is an invitation to push away the barriers bring ableism inside to a place where the prosthesis is no longer the elephant in the room

Rethinking Disability Theory and Practice K. Lesnik-Oberstein,2015-06-03 Drawing from work in a wide range of fields this book presents novel approaches to key debates in thinking about and defining disability Differing from other works in Critical Disability Studies it crucially demonstrates the consequences of radically rethinking the roles of language and perspective in constructing identities Rethinking Disability Michael Schillmeier,2012-03-09 This text is a critical and empirically based introduction to disability studies It offers a comprehensive book length analysis of disability through the lens of Science and Technology Studies STS and presents a practice oriented discussion of how bodies senses and things are linked in everyday life and configure enabling and disabling scenarios Relevant to a broad spectrum of medical practitioners and practicing social service workers the book will also be essential reading in the fields of disability studies sociology of the body senses medical sociology and STS

Inaccessible Access Kelly Fagan Robinson, Mark T. Carew, Nora Ellen Groce, 2024-11-15 Inaccessible Access ethnographically addresses barriers to inclusion within knowledge making It focuses on the social environmental communicative and epistemological barriers that people with disabilities confront and embody throughout the course of their learning and living and in the specific context of their higher education institutions and in research It is presented by a neurodiverse disabled and non cis cohort of authors all of whom acknowledge a continuum of inaccessibility that is available to each contributor contingent on their inherent intersectionalities and alterities The authors and editors of this book foreground the work that has yet to be done on recognizing the value of nonnormative ways of approaching being in and knowing research and higher education particularly in cases where disability centered epistemologies are sidelined in confrontation with institutional norms even within existing discourses concerning equality and alterity

Rethinking Disability Theory and Practice K. Lesnik-Oberstein, 2014-01-14 Drawing from work in a wide range of fields this book presents novel approaches to key debates in thinking about and defining disability Differing from other works in Critical Disability Studies it crucially demonstrates the consequences of radically rethinking the roles of language and perspective in constructing identities

Rethinking Disability and Human Rights Inger Marie Lid, Edward Steinfield, Michael Rembis, 2023-06-16 This book examines the role of disability in the right to political and social participation an act of citizenship that many disabled people do not enjoy The disability rights movement does not accept the use of disability to create limits on citizenship which poses challenges for contemporary societies that will become ever greater as the science and technology of enhancing human abilities evolves Comprised of eight chapters three interludes and a postscript written by leading scholars and disability rights activists the book explores citizenship for people with disabilities from an interdisciplinary perspective using the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities CRPD as a point of departure and the concept of universal design as a strategy for actualizing full citizenship for all Situating disability in its historical and cultural contexts the authors offer directions for rethinking citizenship including implications for access to the built environment information and communication systems education work community life and politics This book will be of interest to all scholars and students working in disability studies planning architecture public health rehabilitation social work and education

Life in Inclusive Classrooms Bank Street College of Education,2016 This issue of the Occasional Papers Series aims to draw attention to the use of storytelling as a medium for provoking dialogue about inclusive classrooms and school communities It offers readers stories of classroom life that provide insights into understanding the complexities that make up the lives of children with disabilities their families and teachers The nine contributions to this issue include lived narratives and analyses presented from a wide range of useful subject positions parents general and special education teachers researchers advocates siblings and persons who are themselves disabled The introduction titled Disability Studies in Education Storying Our Way to Inclusion was written by Joseph Michael Valente and Scot Danforth The opening essay by Diane Linder Berman and David J Connor Eclipsing Expectations How A 3rd Grader Set His Own Goals And Taught Us All How to Listen kicks off with a description of an illuminating journey through the eyes of a parent Diane who wanted a more inclusive experience for her son Benny For Diane and Benny this meant becoming meaningful participants not only in Benny s own classroom community but in the Individualized Education Program IEP meetings that determined his educational goals David uses a DSE framework to analyze and highlight the importance of context as opposed to focusing on the disability condition in enacting inclusionary practices The authors argue for an adhocratic model of education that views children educators and parents as allies In Teaching Stories Inclusion exclusion and Disability Studies Linda Ware and Natalie Wheeler Hatz describe an exceptional collaboration between a university teacher educator Linda and a public school teacher Natalie Together they develop a Teaching Stories in service workshop for Natalie s colleagues to learn about disability studies as well as a curriculum for her fifth grade class Teaching Stories participants engage in self reflection to examine personal biases about disability use media to critically review representations of disability and learn how to harness the potential of young adult literature to provide illustrative non deficit perspectives on disabilities Louis Olander an Iraqi war veteran and special education teacher in New York City crafts a powerful story about his experiences coming to terms with a diagnosis of Post Traumatic Stress Disorder and navigating the quandaries and everyday realities of what he terms quasi inclusion In Rethinking Those Kids Lessons Learned From a Novice Teacher's Induction into In Exclusion Louis argues for reframing inclusionary practices as pedagogies for equity that attend to the intersectional dynamics of race class and disability He also encourages more local control over the implementation of inclusionary classroom practices Inspired by Vivian Paley's storying scholarship the essay The Unfolding of Lucas's Story in an Inclusive Classroom Living Playing and Becoming in the Social World of Kindergarten tells stories about a vibrant kindergartner named Lucas through the viewpoints of his mother Emma teacher Carmen and teacher educator Haeny In this multi-voiced story the narrative centers on Lucas and shifts outward toward those orbiting Lucas's wondrously playful universe The magic of Lucas's unfolding story is in the ways it disrupts conventional discourses about labels interventions and imposed meanings of Autism Spectrum Disorder ASD Karen Watson's ethnographic study Talking Tolerance Inside the Inclusive Early Childhood Classroom provides an inside look into what the Australian government calls inclusive learning communities This term emerges from a national early years learning framework that highlights ability and disability as diversity Following the course of a six-month period in three inclusive early childhood classrooms Karen offers an account of the transformative potential of inclusion in contrast to the harmful effects of teaching tolerance Tolerance as Karen's study reveals preserves the dualism of normal versus abnormal or Other and hinders critical reflection about ableist assumptions Hitting the Switch Se puede takes the reader into the lifeworld of first grader Jason at Castle Bridge Elementary School a public dual language school in New York City Written by Jason's teachers Stephanie and Andrea in conjunction with his mother Sandra this essay puts forward the ethos Se puede Yes you can which relies on children's empathy and calls for a collective response to inclusion Hitting the Switch concludes with practical suggestions for creating an inclusive space for children who use assistive communicative devices so that they can become meaningful participants in the classroom community Emily Clark's I Don't Belong Here Narrating Inclusion at the Exclusion of Others privileges the voices of families in their quest for inclusive education Borrowing from narrative research and Disability Studies in Education Emily tells the story of her adoptive siblings Maria and Isaac who were orphaned by AIDS She explores the paradox of inclusion which is that it sometimes if not oftentimes fails and results in exclusion A chief reason for the failure of inclusion Emily argues is that children with real and perceived differences challenge the grammar of schooling that is they stand out for their differences A beautifully crafted ethnographic description of a rural Midwestern middle school Lunch Detention Our Little Barred Room by Lisa A Johnson pulls back the facades of inclusion to reveal emotional violence and deep-seated discriminatory practices against special education students Lisa herself blind describes how she was approached by an administrator to take over the role of lunch detention supervisor for the little barred room In a short time the little barred room becomes a place of refuge for Lisa and the other students who share stories of friendship and create an inclusive space that empowers them to challenge a culture of oppression Melissa Tsuei's A Circle With Edges How Storytime Privileges the Able Learner takes a critical look at one of the commonplace features of early childhood classrooms story time In her essay Melissa considers the ways in which story time reinforces unequal power dynamics for diverse learners by privileging the able bodied learner In response Melissa creates and presents the SPHERE model which promotes active engagement and shared dialogue through collaborative storytelling and nurtures an inclusive literacy learning environment Taken together these essays are intended to offer readers an applied DSE approach to inclusive classroom pedagogy These essays frame disability and the lives of young children with disabilities in ways that privilege the self understandings and experiential knowledge of the children and their families illuminate oppressive systems arrangements and circumstances that deny them opportunities for access to participation and equality and create opportunities for greater levels of access participation and equality for them It is the hope that these essays will further amplify and provoke unending discussions about how to create and sustain genuinely inclusive classrooms and communities Individual papers contain references

Disability Studies and the Inclusive Classroom Arthur Shapiro, Disability and Qualitative Inquiry Ronald J. Berger, Laura S. Lorenz, 2016-03-09 This groundbreaking text makes an intervention on behalf of disability studies into the broad field of qualitative inquiry Ronald Berger and Laura Lorenz introduce readers to a range of issues involved in doing qualitative research on disabilities by bringing together a collection of scholarly work that supplements their own contributions and covers a variety of qualitative methods participant observation interviewing and interview coding focus groups autoethnography life history narrative analysis content analysis and participatory visual methods The chapters are framed in terms of the relevant methodological issues involved in the research bringing in substantive findings to illustrate the fruits of the methods In doing so the book covers a range of physical sensory and cognitive impairments This work resonates with themes in disability studies such as emancipatory research which views research as a collaborative effort with research subjects whose lives are enhanced by the process and results of the work It is a methodological approach that requires researchers to be on guard against exploiting informants for the purpose of professional aggrandizement and to engage in a process of ongoing self reflection to clear themselves of personal and professional biases that may interfere with their ability to hear and empathize with others
