disabilities move beyond approaches of pathos based on pity and inspiration The volume also includes a classroom based exploration of the discourses and assumptions regarding bodies in relation to haptic or touch based technologies Because the sense of touch is the most persistent of the senses Walters argues that in contexts of disability and in situations in which people with and without disabilities interact touch can be a particularly vital instrument for creating meaning connection and partial identification She contends that a rhetoric thus reshaped stretches contemporary rhetoric and composition studies to respond to the contributions of disabled rhetors and transforms the traditional rhetorical appeals and canons Ultimately Walters argues a rhetoric of touch allows for a richer understanding of the communication processes of a wide range of rhetors who use embodied strategies
