intelligence is creating huge opportunities for workplace learning and employee development. However, it can be difficult for L & D professionals to assess what difference AI can make in their organization and where it is best implemented. Artificial Intelligence for Learning is the practical guide L & D practitioners need to understand what AI is and how to use it to improve all aspects of learning in the workplace. It includes specific guidance on how AI can provide content curation and personalization to improve learner engagement, how it can be implemented to improve the efficiency of evaluation, assessment, and reporting, and how chatbots can provide learner support to a global workforce. Artificial Intelligence for Learning debunks the myths and cuts through the hype around AI, allowing L & D practitioners to feel confident in their ability to critically assess where artificial intelligence can make a measurable difference and where it is worth investing in. There is also critical discussion of how AI is an aid to learning and development, not a replacement, as well as how it can be used to boost the effectiveness of workplace learning, reduce drop-off rates in online learning, and improve ROI. With real-world examples from companies who have effectively implemented AI and seen the benefits, as well as case studies from organizations including Netflix, British Airways, and the NHS, this book is essential reading for all L & D practitioners needing to understand AI and what it means in practice.

Media Log, 1993. This guide describes more than 800 film, television, and radio productions developed with the support of the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH). NEH supports projects that convey significant scholarship to the general public and engage citizens in critical interpretation and analysis of the humanities. Film, video, and radio programs are listed in alphabetical order in one of the following eight sections: 1. United States History and American Studies; 2. Literature and Language; 3. World Culture and History; 4. History Theory and Criticism of the Arts; 5. Archaeology and Anthropology; 6. Philosophy, Religion, and Ethics; 7. Children's and Family Programming; and 8. General Humanities. Each program listing includes information about content, production credits, format, length, ancillary materials, awards, and current distribution agent as of June 1992. All distributor addresses and phone numbers can be found in the back of the book.
