, 1878 Revue Canadienne Du Droit de Commerce, 1991 Globalisation in Transition Umair Ghori, Mary Hiscock, Louise Parsons, Casey Watters, 2023-07-01 This book brings together diverse ideas on selected facets of globalisation and transitions in globalisation The scholars that have contributed to this book examine the phenomenon of globalisation through varied lenses focusing specifically on the human and economic perspectives These analyses originate in many areas and different legal systems but are all connected through the work of Professor John Farrar and the associations of the contributors with him This book does not attempt to provide answers to the many challenges of globalisation Instead this book discusses selected particular aspects of globalisation that derive from and are connected to the authors own research The thematic diversity of this book is a true strength and should draw a broad range of readers Whilst this book is primarily written from a legal angle its content overlaps with broader specialised policy areas with contributions ranging from taxation to ageing from insolvency to social licences and from refugees to the treatment of first nations people In short there is something for everyone in this book As a tribute to the life s work of an outstanding legal scholar Professor John Farrar this book explores legal responses to the social and economic impacts of globalisation After personal acknowledgments from colleagues highlighting the significance of his scholarship this book is divided into two parts The first part addresses the social impact of globalisation focusing on immigration and the impact on First Nations people Changes in the regulation of medicine and technologies related to ageing are also addressed in this part In part two the book addresses the transitioning corporate law landscape and notions of fairness and good faith in the law The final part contains the conclusions reflections and synthesis of the editors

Divergences in Private Law Andrew Robertson, Michael Tilbury, 2016-01-28 This book is a study of doctrinal and methodological divergence in the common law of obligations It explores particular departures from the common law mainstream and the causes and effects of those departures Some divergences can be justified on the basis of a need to adapt the common law of contract torts equity and restitution to local circumstances or to bring them into conformity with local values More commonly however doctrinal or methodological divergence simply reflects different approaches to common problems or different views as to what justice or policy requires in particular circumstances In some instances divergent methodologies lead to substantially the same results while in others particular causes of action defences immunities or remedies recognised in one jurisdiction but not another undoubtedly produce different outcomes Such cases raise interesting questions as to whether ultimate appellate courts should be slow to abandon principles that remain well accepted throughout the common law world or cautious about taking a uniquely divergent path The chapters in this book were originally presented at the Seventh Biennial Conference on the Law of Obligations held in Hong Kong in July 2014 A separate collection entitled The Common Law of Obligations Divergence and Unity ISBN 9781782256564 is also being published
