

Module 1 – Drawing Set Organization

1.1 SHEET IDENTIFICATION

The sheet identification format tends to vary in traditional construction drawing techniques. However, the standard systems methods, mostly drafting, and different distributed rules necessary in modeling and organizing sheets. These techniques have also provided an opportunity to expand the use of the sheet identifier. Accordingly, the sheet identification format is a key part of CIBIM.

1.1.1 Standard Sheet Identification

The sheet identification format is applicable to both manual and CAD drawings/production. It is consistent with standards enough for a wide range of project types. The CIBIM sheet identification format standard uses consistent the following components:

- 1. The discipline designator – consisting of one alphabetical character and a hyphen or two alphabetical characters.
- 2. The sheet type designator – consisting of one numerical character.
- 3. The sheet sequence number – consisting of two numerical characters.

The use of the discipline designator identifies the sheet as a member of a project. A sheet type designator identifies the type information on the sheet is followed by the sheet sequence number.

Regarding the use of sheet type designators, CIBIM allows two levels of sheet identification. Below is a list of a combination of the sheet type designators used to suit the content of the disciplines of the drawings. Level 1 offers the simplest sheet type designator and would be suitable for all but the most complex projects. Level 2 provides guidance for complex or special types of projects. Refer to 1.1.1.1 Level 1 Discipline Designator, 1.1.1.2 Discipline Designator, 1.1.1.3 Level 1 Sheet Sequence Number and 1.1.1.4 Level 2 Sheet Sequence Number for examples of the two levels of sheet identification.

Note that the hyphen in the Level 1 discipline designator is a required sheet hyphen in the presence of the second character. The hyphen is optional rather than a required part due to the use of the “00” as a character. The hyphen, accordingly, is implemented for sheet to indicate the hyphen when appropriate regarding content sheet type designator to the name.

1.1.1.1 Discipline Designator

The first component of the sheet identification format, the discipline designator, is based on the building system of architectural discipline designators, which offer a single alphabetical character and a hyphen (used to as two alphabetical characters) used to:

The discipline designator denotes the category of subject matter contained on the sheet or on the type designator. It must appear:
