

Psychology Reflection Paper:

This morning, I woke up way later than I had intended to, because I couldn't close my eyes last night until 5 AM. Yesterday, I was reminded again and again how unpredictable and dangerous life can be. A beloved employee from my undergraduate alma mater has passed away suddenly. Then, on my way downtown, my train was delayed- which was fine, but it was due to a two year old boy being struck by the train ahead of us, which was not fine. After shedding tears hearing both of these news, I got a broadcast message from the Columbia community which said that Tessa Majors was stabbed to death in Morningside Park, which really isn't too far from where I live. But, this is not about me. It's just that, so many things have happened that were out of my/our control, so many tragic things too and I don't know what to do with it. I don't even know if I should do something with it, since it is so indirect, yet powerful. I didn't know Tessa, but interestingly enough I have been looking everywhere for a female bass player and I found out this morning that she was a great one. My heart was broken. It's kind of irrelevant, but I still found a way to make meaning out of it to make sense out of it. Or maybe even, to take inspiration out of it.

Anyway- I don't know where I am going with this exactly. But here I am, finishing up my paper, so I am proud of myself. It's interesting because I am becoming more resilient as I grow up and this course has helped me recognize it more often. However, during one of my reflections I was also questioning: can resilience make us a bit more insensitive? I'm struggling
