

1. Learning the letter sounds

In Jolly Phonics the 42 main sounds of English are taught, not just the alphabet. The sounds are in seven groups. Some sounds are written with two letters, such as ee and or. These are called digraphs. oo and th can each make two different sounds, as in book and moon, that and three. To distinguish between these two sounds, the digraph is represented in two forms. This is shown below.

1. s a t i p n
2. c k e h r m d
3. g o u l f b
4. ai j oa ie ee or
5. z w ng v oo oo
6. y x ch sh th th
7. qu ou oi ue er ar

Each sound has an action which helps children remember the letter(s) that represent it. As a child progresses you can point to the letters and see how quickly they can do the action and say the sound. One letter sound can be taught each day. As a child becomes more confident, the actions are no longer performed. Most of the list of all of the letter sounds and their corresponding actions are given at the end of the book.

Children should learn each letter by the sound, not the name. For example, the letter a should be written as the sound ay and not as the name aitch. Similarly, the letter o should be written as the sound oh, not as the name oh. This will help in blending. The names of each letter are given below.

The letters have not been introduced in alphabetical order. The first group (s, a, t, i, p, n) has been chosen because they make some simple words (such as sat, pin, it) and other six letters. The letters h and k are included in different groups to avoid confusion.

Remember that some words that are not easy to say (such as chicken) are usually taught in one form only. For example, the word chicken is taught as chicken, not chickin or chickens, and these alternatives are ignored and not written down. Examples can be found in the Jolly Phonics Word Book.
