Change Order Construction Forms:

Construction Change Order Claims Michael T. Callahan, 2005-01-01 Construction Change Order Claims brings you up to date with the latest methods for determining value of work on all types of projects. Commonly encountered claim issues are covered in detail including Surety issues, Evaluating changes resulting from ambiguous specifications or inadequate design, Measuring the cost impact of delays, Proving the price of damages. This all in one resource guides you through every type and aspect of change claims offering hands on guidance and analysis from 25 experienced practitioners. Construction Change Order Claims helps you quickly answer difficult questions such as: Is a change order on a construction project an extra and or is it included within the scope of the basic contract price? When does an owner's unintentional interference cross the line between a mere impairment or hindrance to an alteration of the contractor's intended methods of performance? What specific circumstances support the use of the cardinal change doctrine? What circumstances must be present to employ the Percentage of Completion accounting method? Construction Change Order Claims delivers innovative defenses to avoid being bound by a release, Guidance for anticipating contractor defenses and for preparing opposing arguments, Practical tips and accounting tools for evaluating progress and calculating payments, Federal, state and local certification requirements for public and private projects, And more.      The Construction Contracts Book Daniel S. Brennan, 2008 Most construction lawyers are familiar with the American Institute of Architects AIA Engineers Joint Contract Documents Committee EJCDC forms of agreements and the newer ConsensusDOCS forms. The ConsensusDocs forms replace many of the forms previously issued by the Associated General Contractors of America AGC. Now completely revised, this invaluable resource offers a topic by topic comparison of these forms by providing an easy reference guide to how the AIA ConsensusDOCS and EJCDC forms treat the most significant issues in owner-contractor, subcontractor and owner-design professional agreements. Proposed alternative language for situations where the form contract approach may not provide the best solution. List comparing the most significant provisions from each of these forms on the CD-ROM.      Construction Specifications Writing Mark Kalin, Robert S. Weygant, Harold J. Rosen, John R. Regener, 2010-04-26 Updated edition of the comprehensive rulebook to the specifier's craft. With this latest update Construction Specifications Writing Sixth Edition continues to claim distinction as the foremost text on construction specifications. This mainstay in the field offers comprehensive practical and professional guidance to understanding the purposes and processes for preparation of construction specifications. This new edition uses real world document examples that reflect current writing practices shaped by the well established principles and requirements of major professional associations including the American Institute of Architects AIA, the Engineers Joint Contract Documents Committee EJCDC and the Construction Specifications Institute CSI. Also included are guidelines for correct terminology, product selection, organization of specifications according to recognized CSI formats and practical techniques for document production. Fully revised throughout, this Sixth Edition includes updates to MasterFormat 2004 as well as SectionFormat PageFormat 2007 and Uniformat End of chapter questions and specification writing exercises Samples of the newly updated construction documents from the AIA New chapter on sustainable design and specifications for LEED projects Updated information on the role of specifications in Building Information Modeling BIM

Using and Understanding Engineering Service and Construction Contracts John R. Clark, 2012-12-06 1

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND In the late 1950s many members of the design professions Engineers as well as Architects became concerned about their exposure to claims for professional malpractice and particularly about the increasing number of claims that had been successfully brought against them arising out of their Construction Phase activities This led to special studies sponsored by the American Institute of Architects and the Engineers joint Counsel The outcome was twofold the development of a policy of professional liability insurance to insure Engineers and Architects against errors and omissions in the performance of their professional services and the review and development of the customary contractual arrangements defining the design professional's undertakings vis a vis his client the Owner the Project to be designed and the Contractor who was to implement that design At the outset the AIA's Owner Architect Agreement No B131 General Conditions No A201 and the Owner Contractor Agreements Nos A101 111 were the documents most frequently used by design professionals and these received particular attention In the early 1960s it became apparent that there was a need for a separate series of documents prepared to address these relationships when the Project to be designed involved primarily engineering considerations The number of Projects for which the Engineer was employed by the Owner as the prime professional to handle the Project design and construction administration was increasing

Substantial Rehabilitation & New Construction William Duncan, 2013-11-11 The procedures in this manual distill six years of learning about the most efficient acquisition and construction methods in this country for high volume production of housing affordable to low income people The people in the Rehab Work Group at The Enterprise Foundation have gathered this information first hand and conveyed it in training workshops on production management throughout the country Over 2000 participants in the workshops have included rehab specialists from city housing departments construction managers of single and multifamily rehab projects program managers from both nonprofit housing development organizations and city rehab departments as well as students in colleges and universities They are becoming the backbone of a new cadre of effective producers of affordable housing In the 30 cities and several rural areas where we have both learned and applied these production management techniques they have resulted in savings of 5 10 even 25 percent of the cost of housing development The Enterprise Foundation is a national nonprofit organization that my wife Patty and I launched in 1982 The Foundation's mission is to see that all very low income Americans have the opportunity for fit and affordable housing within a generation and work their way up and out of poverty into the main stream of American life
