States of Matter

Section 13.1 Gases

In your textbook, read about the kinetic molecular theory.

Complete each statement.

- The kinetic molecular theory describes the behavior of gases in terms of particles in motion.
- The kinetic molecular theory makes the following assumptions:
  - In a sample of a gas, the volume of the gas particles themselves is very small compared to the volume of the sample.
  - Between gas particles and the walls, there are no significant attractive or repulsive forces between gas particles.
  - Gas particles are in constant and random motion.
  - The collisions between gas particles are elastic, that is, no kinetic energy is lost.
- The kinetic energy of a particle is represented by the equation  $KE = \frac{1}{2}mv^2$ .
- Temperature is a measure of the average kinetic energy of the particles in a sample of matter.

In your textbook, read about explaining the behavior of gases.

For each statement below, write true or false.

- |              |                                                                                                                                  |
|--------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| True  | 1. Gases are less dense than solids because there is a lot of space between the particles of a gas.                              |
| True  | 2. The random motion of gas particles causes a gas to expand until it fills its container.                                       |
| False | 3. The density of a gas decreases as it is compressed.                                                                           |
| True  | 4. A gas can flow into a space occupied by another gas.                                                                          |
| True  | 5. The diffusion of a gas is caused by the random motion of the particles of the gas.                                            |
| False | 6. Lighter gas particles diffuse less rapidly than do heavier gas particles.                                                     |
| True  | 7. During effusion, a gas escapes through a tiny opening into a vacuum.                                                          |
| False | 8. Graham's law of effusion states that the rate of effusion for a gas is directly related to the square root of its molar mass. |
