All animals need to eat _____ to get _____ to live. But in order to use this food, they have to break it down in a process called _____. And so, all animals have a group of connected organs called the digestive _____.

In humans, the process of digestion begins in the _____ where food is _____ into small pieces by the teeth. The _____ helps by moving these pieces around. These pieces are covered by _____, or spit. The saliva makes the food slippery so that it is easier to _____. It also helps to break down the food.

Once the food is swallowed, it passes through the _____, which is like a gate that sends food into the _____ and air into the lungs. The food travels down the esophagus and into the _____. Once in the stomach the food is mixed with _____ and crushed some more.

After spending some time in the stomach, the food is sent into the _____ where nutrients are _____. The _____ helps by producing some digestive juices called bile. Next, the remaining food goes into the _____ where the _____ are absorbed. The remaining food is called _____ and it is pushed into the _____ where it waits before leaving the body.
