Johansson,1995 Shows CEOs managers and business process reengineering BPR team members how to benefit from BPR implementation relying on an in depth international study of 47 companies such as Aetna Chevron and AlliedSignal that have reduced costs compressed cycle time and improved customer service through BPR techniques Outlines the fundamental differences between BPR and TQM and demonstrates how to link business strategy with BPR objectives Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Assessing the Causes of Employee Resistance to Change in the Implementation of Business Processes Re-engineering in an Organization Eric Dei,2015-06-30 Master s Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Engineering General grade MERIT Ghana Telecom University College GRADUATE SCHOOL course Engineering Project management language English abstract The dynamism especially in the Ghanaian market has forced players at all levels to consider competitive strategies such as business process re engineering to rightly position them in the market Also the intense world wide competition in today s service industry motivates many companies to reengineer their old fashioned processes to achieve new heights of success The study is therefore undertaken to investigate what could be the root cause employee resistance to change when deploying strategies such as Business process reengineering in Opportunity International Savings and Loans Ltd The study was designed as a quantitative survey with questionnaires as the means of data gathering Using the simple random sampling method the study selected 300 respondents from OISL out of a population of 750 The simple random sampling method was used to avoid bias in the sampling and ultimately the results The study used the SPSS and Microsoft Excel to analyse the data From the analyses of data the study concluded that the principal causes of employee resistance were inadequate training the perception that the change process is an imposition and the changes being inconvenient the daily routine of employees In addition technical hitches and wrong timing leads to resistance to change Using the ADKAR model the study also concluded that employee involvement communication and training are clearly the weaknesses of the change management methodology of the case study organization The study also concluded that necessary support OISL management provide for employees during the implementation of business process re engineering were far lower than the expectations of employees The study therefore recommended that adequate training and development democratization of the change process better communication strategy to overcome resistance to change   Automating Business Process Reengineering Gregory A. Hansen,1997 Automating Business Process Reengineering is the only book of its kind that tells you not only what you need to know but shows you how to put that knowledge to work immediately The book includes numerous examples that demonstrate the power of computer aided reengineering in action A few years ago simulation tools weren t available to anyone except experts in the field Now these powerful low cost visual simulation tools are designed for practical use This book is meant for anyone responsible for process or profit improvement in an organization   Enterprise, Business-Process and Information Systems Modeling Jens Gulden,Iris Reinhartz-Berger,Rainer Schmidt,Sérgio Guerreiro,Wided Guédria,Palash Bera,2018-06-04 This book constitutes the proceedings of two events held at the CAiSE conference and relating to the areas of enterprise business process and information systems modeling The 19th International Conference on Business Process Modeling Development and Support BPMDS 2018 and the 23rd International Conference on Evaluation and Modeling Methods for Systems Analysis and Development EMMSAD 2018 The conferences took place in Tallinn Estonia in June 2018 The 13 papers accepted for BPMDS were carefully reviewed and selected from 29 submissions for EMMSAD 6 papers out of 13 submissions were accepted for publication For BPMDS 2018 the papers were organized in topical sections as follows context awareness in business processes automatic analysis of business processes advanced approaches for business process modeling evaluation of business process modeling techniques an experience report on modeling collaborative processes For EMMSAD 2018 the six related papersare listed without further sections   The steps of Finnish medium sized SAP / EPR USERS towards an implementation of a CRM system Simon Rudolf,Stefan

Bihler,2006-11-13 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2006 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 0 Helia University of Business and Applied Sciences course Double degree program in Finnland language English abstract CRM has aroused much interest in various business fields during the last decade and is of high importance in today s businesses Similarly has increased the demand for CRM system by many companies around the world As our sponsors can not recognize this trend in Finland the objective of the study was consequently to explore the weak demand of the CRM system on the Finnish market Accordingly the purpose was to provide a better insight in the until now unexplored Finnish CRM market and in particular in an interesting segment of our sponsor SAP the existing customer base of companies with an ERP system The aim was to examine medium sized ERP operating companies concerning their readiness for a CRM implementation The conceptual framework is based on literature and various articles of avowed authors in the field of CRM and was divided according to the research questions Overall this study is based on two parts the theoretical part which strives to give the necessary background and an empirical part which applies to the findings and analysis of our research Our research methodology was a quantitative one as we used a self completion questionnaire to conduct our survey The research was carried out in form of an online survey and was sent to 78 companies As CRM is a strategic issue we chose respondents from the upper management level mostly managing directors Only these persons were able to give qualitative and valid answers about the current situation in these companies The findings showed that the respondents are aware of the topic CRM and that it is constituted as an important issue for these companies All of the respondents see usefulness in the functions and the support of their business with a CRM system Finally only 10 percent of all participants are not planning to implement any CRM system while 55 percent have already and 35 percent will implement a CRM system in the future The conclusion of the report showed that an obvious trend can be recognized in theses companies towards an implementation of a CRM system More specific 90 percent of the respondents are or will be ready in the next one to three years to take the final step an implementation of a CRM system As a recommendation to our sponsor we suggest to use the by us developed research path for further research in order to get a total overview about the market   Acquiring, Developing, and Implementing Accounting Information Systems Ulric J. Gelinas,Steve G. Sutton,James E. Hunton,2004   Defense White Paper ,2000   Business Process Re-engineering B. C. Glasson,1994 The focus of this publication is BPR Business Process Re engineering and the challenges and opportunities it brings to the field of information systems The key to successful BPR from an information systems perspective is perceived to lie in integration Papers included in the book accordingly consider the following three areas both individually and in combination Business Process Re engineering Information Systems Opportunities or Challenges Information Systems Integration Business Process Re engineering is the restructuring of organizational processes through the innovative use of information systems and technology IS T The aim is to refit or revamp an organization to survive today s economic downturn and to emerge refreshed and re vitalized to meet its social obligations and accept its economic challenges into the next century Information systems opportunities and challenges facing business process re engineers revolve around integration It is believed that unidimensional specialized segmented and piecemeal approaches have been adopted in IS T which do not work If IS T is to achieve its full potential for social and economic good there is little need for holistic multi dimensional comprehensive approaches IS T researchers and practitioners should look to integrate their efforts with those of others in at least three ways Integrating theory and practice will encourage relevant research and more rapid technology transfer Integrating technical and social aspects will help alleviate those implementation issues that have bedevilled IS T for decades Integrating applications and subject matter will result in synergistic multi disciplinary approaches and solutions combining the interests of the many specialists involved in the field The broad ranging examination of these factors offered by the book highlights the overall need for information systems and technology integration if active responses to the opportunities and challenges presented by Business Process Re engineering are to be achieved   Formulation, Implementation, and Control of Competitive Strategy John A. Pearce,Richard Braden Robinson,2009 This text looks at contemporary research in strategic management with an emphasis on conceptual tools and skills created by scholars and practitioners in the field   Computers Are Your Future 2006 Bill Daley,William Daley,Marion Wood,2005-03 Now available in two versions rather than three this introduction to computers book is one that users will engage with maintaining the encyclopedic approach in the popular magazine style It is refreshing accurate and easy to learn from written to today s reader The Eighth Edition moves the emphasis to connectivity and includes loads of new research to ensure that the statistics in the book are current This edition emphasizes emerging technologies while de emphasizing older technologies The Complete version is chapters 10 14 of the Introductory version with one Spotlight at the end on Emerging Technologies Covers Careers and Certification Programming Databases and Information Systems Systems Analysis and Design and Enterprise Computing For anyone wanting a basic knowledge of computers to apply to their jobs or lives   Information & management International Federation for Information Processing,2001   The Price Waterhouse EDI Handbook Thomas P. Colberg,1995-03-20 Experts from Price Waterhouse explain how to plan analyze design construct and implement the systems necessary to create an Electronic Data Interchange EDI environment This comprehensive reference provides an overview of the technological and business aspects of EDI and demonstrates how to determine company and information needs Includes sample workplans EDI standards with explanations and model EDI trading partner agreements   Business Process Reengineering Ahmed Abdelfattah Shabana,1995
