Europe is facing a paradox while governments try to curb public spending, the demands on our healthcare systems continue to rise. But despite increasing evidence of the benefits, technology can bring the healthcare sector has been slow to embrace the digital revolution and has stuck to more traditional methods and models. This book presents selected contributions to the symposium on Personal Health Monitoring (PHM) and Ethics and future areas of PHM which took place in advance of the 11th World Congress of Bioethics held in Rotterdam, the Netherlands, in June 2012. Most of the papers present the outcomes of the European PHM Ethics project which conducted interdisciplinary analyses of emerging PHM applications.
