Citizens of Worlds Jennifer Gabrys,2022-11-15 An unparalleled how to guide to citizen sensing practices that monitor air pollution Modern environments are awash with pollutants churning through the air from toxic gases and intensifying carbon to carcinogenic particles and novel viruses The effects on our bodies and our planet are perilous Citizens of Worlds is the first thorough study of the increasingly widespread use of digital technologies to monitor and respond to air pollution It presents practice based research on working with communities and making sensor toolkits to detect pollution while examining the political subjects relations and worlds these technologies generate Drawing on data from the Citizen Sense research group which worked with communities in the United States and the United Kingdom to develop digital sensor toolkits Jennifer Gabrys argues that citizen oriented technologies promise positive change but then collide with entrenched and inequitable power structures She asks Who or what constitutes a citizen in citizen sensing How do digital sensing technologies enable or constrain environmental citizenship Spanning three project areas this study describes collaborations to monitor air pollution from fracking infrastructure to document emissions in urban environments and to create air quality gardens As these projects show how people respond to care for and struggle to transform environmental conditions informs the political subjects and collectives they become as they strive for more breathable worlds

Lynn Margulis Dorion Sagan,2012-10-19 Tireless controversial and hugely inspirational to those who knew her or encountered her work Lynn Margulis was a scientist whose intellectual energy and interests knew no bounds Best known for her work on the origins of eukaryotic cells the Gaia hypothesis and symbiogenesis as a driving force in evolution her work has forever changed the way we understand life on Earth When Margulis passed away in 2011 she left behind a groundbreaking scientific legacy that spanned decades In this collection Dorion Sagan Margulis s son and longtime collaborator gathers together the voices of friends and colleagues to remark on her life and legacy in essays that cover her early collaboration with James Lovelock her fearless face off with Richard Dawkins during the so called Battle of Balliol at

Oxford the intrepid application of her scientific mind to the insistence that 9 11 was a false flag operation her affinity for Emily Dickinson and more Margulis was elected to the National Academy of Sciences in 1983 received the prestigious National Medal of Science in 1999 and her papers are permanently archived at the Library of Congress Less than a month before her untimely death Margulis was named one of the twenty most influential scientists alive one of only two women on this list which include such scientists as Stephen Hawking James Watson and Jane Goodall Although she could be a bulldog her heart was soft and her spirit loving beneath the scientific realpolitik of her conversation and the insistent tough mindedness of her sometimes strident and blunt withering and refreshingly unadorned opinions Dorion Sagan from the introduction
