The purpose of this thesis is to illuminate the manner in which violence is represented in two significant Afro American autobiographies Frederick Douglass Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass an American Slave hereafter shortened as Narrative and Richard Wright's Black Boy As Afro American autobiography has always been a mirror to U S society it will be interesting to see how these autobiographies taken from different periods of American history deal with the race oriented problem of violence As we will see the very first Afro American autobiographies so called slave narratives already included representations of violence that documented the atrocities that black people had to endure Remarkably Richard Wright's Black Boy shares many textual features of the slave narratives such as the escape from the South after a traumatizing experience of violence      Comparing European Societies Gianfranco Bettin, Ettore Recchi, 2005      Pacific Fancier, 1906
