International Management Dean B. McFarlin, 1998. This unique book offers students a comprehensive applications oriented review of the most recent trends and challenges in the field of international management. The authors demonstrate the importance of this evolving field using the most up to date research and examples. The presentation of international management challenges and solutions and the discussion of real world business situations. Case Studies on Educational Administration Theodore J. Kowalski, 2008. This book immerses prospective administrators in the realities of practice. Problem solving and decision making skills are addressed through the use of open ended case studies. Effective practice in school administration requires both leadership and management. In today's reform minded information based society practitioners must be able to frame problems correctly and then make effective decisions to ameliorate them. As leaders, district and school level administrators are expected to focus on what should be done to improve schools, as managers they are expected to focus on how to do things successfully. The cases in this book are designed to make students think about common problems of practice by encouraging them to bridge theory and practice. More precisely, the cases are intended to hone four essential practitioner skills: 1. The ability to frame a problem correctly. 2. The ability to develop and evaluate alternative solutions to a defined problem. 3. The ability to use data and other facts to counter the influence of politics and emotion in decision making. 4. The ability to grow professionally by engaging in reflective practice. Leading, Managing and Developing People Gary Rees, Ray French, 2013. The only book designed specifically for the CIPD's new core unit Leading, Managing and Developing People. Leadership at the Crossroads Joanne B. Ciulla, 2008. Contributors from a wide variety of fields including management, economics, political science, philosophy, sociology, history, literature, and psychology explore the many facets of leadership. Topics include ethics and accountability, leadership styles, the differences between leadership and management, the poison spread by toxic leaders, inspirational leadership, choosing and monitoring leaders, leadership development, women and minorities in leadership, leadership and diplomacy, leadership in literature and the arts, military leadership, and much more. Collectively, this set showcases traditional and emerging approaches to leadership in both theory and practice and raises new questions brought on by society's new challenges. It also suggests solutions for developing and promoting leadership in the corporate world, politics, and diplomacy, religion, education, nonprofits, and the arts. Whether identifying qualities that will serve a U.S. president well or the characteristics of the essential can-do supervisor in today's corporation, Leadership at the Crossroads supplies insights and intelligence that will help leaders make the most of the challenges and opportunities before them. Leadership Education, 1996
