Distribution of Utah coal remained nearly steady in 2008 at 24.8 million tons while out of state coal imports increased by 68% with most coal going to the Bonanza power plant in eastern Utah.

Case Histories and Use of FRP for Prestressing Applications Raafat El-Hacha, S. H. Rizkalla, 2007. Fiber reinforced polymer FRP composite materials have been proposed for use in lieu of steel for prestressing applications. The use of FRP has been growing rapidly in recent years. FRP provides options and benefits not available using traditional materials. The promise of FRP materials lies in their high strength, lightweight, noncorrosive, nonconducting and nonmagnetic properties. In 2005, ACI Committee 440 Fiber Reinforced Polymer Reinforcement published ACI 440.4R-04 Prestressing Concrete Structures with FRP Tendons as one of several guides in ACI's Emerging Technology Series to provide recommendation for the use of FRP materials based on available test data, technical reports, and limited field applications. The aim of this document is to help practitioners implement FRP technology while providing testimony that design and construction with FRP materials systems is rapidly moving from emerging to mainstream technology.
