about women's rights in the Muslim world Zakia and Ali were from different tribes but they grew up on neighboring farms in the hinterlands of Afghanistan By the time they were young teenagers Zakia strikingly beautiful and fiercely opinionated and Ali shy and tender had fallen in love Defying their families sectarian differences cultural conventions and Afghan civil and Islamic law they ran away together only to live under constant threat from Zakia's large and vengeful family who have vowed to kill her to restore the family's honor They are still in hiding Despite a decade of American good intentions women in Afghanistan are still subjected to some of the worst human rights violations in the world Rod Nordland then the Kabul bureau chief of the New York Times had watched these abuses unfold for years when he came upon Zakia and Ali and has not only chronicled their plight but has also shepherded them from danger The Lovers will do for women's rights generally what Malala's story did for women's education It is an astonishing story about self determination and the meaning of love that illustrates as no policy book could the limits of Western influence on fundamentalist Islamic culture and at the same time the need for change Smart Frederic Martel,2018-07-05 Digitization is accelerating globalization tenfold Social networks have gone mobile telephone television and towns have gone smart How did China manage to create clones of Google Facebook and YouTube and build its own censored version of the Internet How do Arab countries use social networks for their revolutions Why is there no minister for communications in the US and why does no one regulate the Internet there From Silicon Valley to Tokyo from South Africa to southern India and all the way to Cuba and Gaza this unprecedented investigation in the field covers the whole battle of the Internet and its future Drawing on hundreds of interviews in about fifty countries Frederic Martel examines the different Internets on five continents In so doing he reveals that we are moving not only into a connected globalized world but also a territorialized one Smart shows that the Internet has never been truly global and that it will become increasingly local Korea,2015 Florida Law Review,2016-03 Vanity Fair,2014
