Stremke, Andy van den Dobbelsteen, 2012-09-12 In the near future the appearance and spatial organization of urban and rural landscapes will be strongly influenced by the generation of renewable energy One of the critical tasks will be the re integration of these sustainable energy landscapes into the existing environment which people value and want to preserve in a socially fair environmenta The Urbanisation of the Sea Nancy Couling, Carola Hein, 2020-12-02 The book tells the story of the sea land continuum based on the case of the North Sea one of the world s most industrialised seas in which the Netherlands plays a central role The space of the North Sea is almost fully planned and has been loaded with the task of increased economic production from new and traditional maritime sectors At the same time it has been emptied of cultural signi ficance Through diverse projects from academia art literature and practice from analysis to design the book explores synergies for designing this new spatial realm Port city expert Carola Hein professor of the history of architecture urban planning at Delft University of Technology and Nancy Couling associate professor at the Bergen School of Architecture and researcher of the urbanised sea combine forces with interdisciplinary experts to guide the reader through this complex and fascinating topic Bibliographic Guide to Maps and Atlases 1996 G K HALL, G. Cities | Open Data Scott Hawken, Hoon Han, Chris Pettit, 2019-09-26 Today the world s largest economies and corporations trade in data and its products to generate value in new disruptive markets Within these markets vast streams of data are often inaccessible or untapped and controlled by powerful monopolies Counter to this exclusive use of data is a promising world wide open data movement promoting freely accessible information to share reuse and redistribute The provision and application of open data has enormous potential to transform exclusive technocratic smart cities into inclusive and responsive open cities This book argues that those who contribute urban data should benefit from its production Like the city itself the information landscape is a public asset produced through collective effort attention and resources People produce data through their engagement with the city creating digital footprints through social medial mobility applications and city sensors By opening up data there is potential to generate greater value by supporting unforeseen collaborations spontaneous urban innovations and solutions and improved decision making insights Yet achieving more open cities is made challenging by conflicting desires for urban anonymity sociability privacy and transparency This book engages with these issues through a variety of critical perspectives and presents strategies tools and case studies that enable this transformation
