Nights in August When the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor college football was at the height of its popularity As the nation geared up for total war one branch of the service dominated the aspirations of college football stars the United States Marine Corps Which is why on Christmas Eve of 1944 when the 4th and 29th Marine regiments found themselves in the middle of the Pacific Ocean training for what would be the bloodiest battle of the war the invasion of Okinawa their ranks included one of the greatest pools of football talent ever assembled Former All Americans captains from Wisconsin and Brown and Notre Dame and nearly twenty men who were either drafted or would ultimately play in the NFL When the trash talking between the 4th and 29th over who had the better football team reached a fever pitch it was decided The two regiments would play each other in a football game as close to the real thing as you could get in the dirt and coral of Guadalcanal The bruising and bloody game that followed became known as The Mosquito Bowl Within a matter of months 15 of the 65 players in The Mosquito Bowl would be killed at Okinawa by far the largest number of American athletes ever to die in a single battle The Mosquito Bowl is the story of these brave and beautiful young men those who survived and those who did not It is the story of the families and the landscape that shaped them It is a story of a far more innocent time in both college athletics and the life of the country and of the loss of that innocence Writing with the style and rigor that won him a Pulitzer Prize and have made several of his books modern classics Buzz Bissinger takes us from the playing fields of America s campuses where boys played at being Marines to the final time they were allowed to still be boys on that field of dirt and coral to the darkest and deadliest days that followed at Okinawa The New Yorker Harold Wallace Ross,William Shawn,Tina Brown,Katharine Sergeant Angell White,David Remnick,Rea Irvin,Roger Angell,2005-05
