Offering a multidisciplinary perspective on trust and conflict management in organizations, the book draws from diverse fields such as organizational psychology, business law, industrial relations, and sociology. It examines the often encountered breaches of trust between management and organized workers and the resulting destructive social conflicts, social actions, strikes, or dramatic business decisions. Its focus is on trust and conflict management at the organizational level in an industrial relations context that of employee representatives and management. The book introduces a new theoretical approach, the Tree of Trust, designed to analyse and mediate the interconnected levels of trust and distrust in industrial relations. It presents case studies and practical recommendations to build trust and constructive conflict management in the organizations and illustrates these by means of experiences from different countries around the globe.

The Role of Emotions in Effective Negotiations Niklas Lochner, 2017-03-08 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject Psychology Work Business Organisation grade 1.0 University of Applied Sciences Aschaffenburg language English abstract Whether people are bargaining for the price of a flower at the florist's around the corner, a teenager is negotiating about the time he has to be home at night, or the German Bayer AG is negotiating a 66bn takeover deal with Monsanto, negotiations happen every day for different reasons. Even though we are negotiating every day, there is still a misunderstanding about negotiations that often jeopardizes the outcome of the negotiation. Most people think that negotiating is a sequence of rational decision processes, whereas as a matter of fact, negotiating involves a dimension that is most often underestimated or ignored: emotions. These might be positive emotions like happiness or negative emotions like disappointment and guilt, but what they all have in common is that they significantly impact negotiations. This lack of awareness about the influence of emotions on negotiations often leads to negotiation strategies that ignore emotions, even though recognizing and using emotions can significantly improve the negotiation experience and results. Based on the assumption that emotions do influence negotiations, this thesis focuses on the question how different emotions influence the negotiation and which skills and knowledge are necessary in order to improve negotiations through emotional intelligence.
