From Cooking Vessels to Cultural Practices in the Late Bronze Age Aegean Julie Hruby, Debra Trusty, 2017-08-31 Late Bronze Age Aegean cooking vessels illuminate prehistoric cultures foodways social interactions and communication systems While many scholars have focused on the utility of painted fineware vessels for chronological purposes the contributors to this volume maintain that cooking wares have the potential to answer not only chronological but also economic political and social questions when analysed and contrasted with assemblages from different sites or chronological periods The text is dedicated entirely to prehistoric cooking vessels compiles evidence from a wide range of Greek sites and incorporates new methodologies and evidence. The contributors utilise a wide variety of analytical approaches and demonstrate the impact that cooking vessels can have on the archaeological interpretation of sites and their inhabitants. These sites include major Late Bronze Age citadels and smaller settlements throughout the Aegean and surrounding Mediterranean area including Greece, the islands, Crete, Italy and Cyprus. In particular, contributors highlight socio-economic connections by examining the production methods, fabrics and forms of cooking vessels. Recent improvements in excavation techniques, advances in archaeological sciences and increasing attention to socioeconomic questions make this an opportune time to renew conversations about and explore new approaches to cooking vessels and what they can teach us.

Pottery Southwest, 1984      International Symposium on East Anatolia—South Caucasus Cultures Mehmet Işıklı, Birol Can, Mehmet Işıklı, 2015-09-04. The Southern Caucasus is a region of great historical, cultural and strategic importance which means that it has become an indispensable research field for most of the social sciences, particularly archaeology. However, despite its rich potential, research in the areas of modern-day Georgia, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Nakhichevan, North-western Iran and North-eastern Turkey has been inadequate when compared with other important culture basins such as Mesopotamia and the Mediterranean. In October 2012, Atatürk University in Erzurum, North-eastern Anatolia, Turkey, with the patronage of the Eurasian Silk Road Universities Consortium (ESRUC) hosted a Symposium of academics from more than 120 science and education institutions around the world to discuss opinions and share information about cultures in this region from its earliest times to the Middle Ages within the scope of Ancient History, Archaeology, Art History and Ethno-archaeology. This two-volume publication is a compilation of 75 articles which were evaluated and selected by an Academic Committee from contributors who presented their academic papers at the Symposium.

Maya Blue Dean E. Arnold, 2024-12-16. One of the great technological achievements of the ancient Maya, Maya Blue is one of the world's most unusual ancient pigments. In Maya Blue, Dean E. Arnold offers a comprehensive history of its study for almost a century, filled with personal anecdotes drawn from his decades of work uncovering the Maya knowledge of its constituents, its ancient sources and how it was made, including previously unknown methods. The book presents a fresh, holistic perspective that documents these discoveries and the scientific process that led to them and provides testable hypotheses about how the pigment and the technology used to make it moved throughout Mesoamerica. Combining the organic dye indigo and the inorganic clay mineral palygorskite in a highly stable chemical hybrid that, unlike indigo, resists attacks by acids, alkalines and organic solvents and endures without fading, Maya Blue has a rich blue color that has survived for centuries in one of the world's harshest climates. First used at the site of Calakmul in the tropical forest of southern Mexico during the Late Preclassic period, the Maya's abiding hue diffused across Mesoamerica over a period of 1,700 years. It appears on Maya pottery, sculpture, murals and codices and carries multiple meanings, standing as a symbol for cultural cornerstones such as sacrifice and the rain god Chaak It was discovered in 1931 at Chich n Itz and its composition was a mystery for more than three decades then questions about its source how and why it achieved such stability and how and why the Maya made the pigment persisted even longer In Maya Blue Arnold summarizes ethnographic archaeological chemical and material science research over the last century from an anthropological perspective This thorough engaging and accessible book chronicles the history of this pigment as no work has done before Papers from the EAA Third Annual Meeting at Ravenna 1997 European Association of Archaeologists. Annual Meeting,1998 Papers from the EAA Third Annual Meeting at Ravenna 1997 Volume IV This book includes papers presented at a session of EAA 97 span from the Palaeolithic to modern times and address various aspects of material culture including pottery stone tools beads metals and architecture The papers reflect the widespread interest which has arrisen in the last decade in the social agency of ancient material culture production and they make a valuable contribution to the development of the theoretical foundations of the study of ancient technology BAR International Series ,1998 Function and Technology of Anasazi Ceramics from Black Mesa, Arizona Marion F.
