Trade and Globalization David A. Lynch,2010-08-16 To access the additional resources mentioned in this book Click Here Regional trade agreements RTAs are not new but their importance in global economics and politics has grown exponentially in the past two decades At the same time RTAs have become increasingly controversial as their number scope and cross cutting memberships become so complex that many fear they will undermine the World Trade Organization s multilateral trading system Ranging from the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation forum to the European Union to the North American Free Trade Agreement RTAs have equally wide ranging purposes from improving market access to increasing clout in international negotiations Tackling this complexity and confusion head on this book provides a much needed guide to RTAs Setting current regional agreements in their economic political and historical context David A Lynch describes and compares virtually every significant RTA region by region He clearly explains their intricate inner workings their webs of collaboration and conflict and their primary goals and effectiveness Lynch s deeply knowledgeable study bridges the ideological divides in scholarly and public debate including economists emphases on markets and efficiency versus antiglobalization activists concerns over inequality and social ills By building a middle ground between micro and macro analysis and clarifying technical terminology this concise and accessible book will be an invaluable reference for all nonspecialists

International Trade Anne O. Krueger,2020-10-05 A succinct and clear introduction to international trade and trade policy Gendering Globalization on the Ground Gay Young,2014-11-13 How has globalization worked for women working on the frontlines of neoliberalism on the Mexico US border This border divides US from Others and produces social inequalities that form a site where marginalized border women encounter the othering power of neoliberalism and confront inequalities of gender and class Within this context a critical comparison of socially similar women working either in export production industries or in small scale commerce and low level services in Ciudad Ju rez reveals how export factory work constrains women s empowerment at home as well as the wages they earn and the well being of their households This volume challenges the neoliberal rationale of empowering women to support market growth and argues instead for understanding women s empowerment as a process of transformation from disempowerment by gender power relations to challenging masculinist domination in households and ultimately the economy and society Because structures of gender and globalization are mutually constituted women s empowerment as gender democracy is integral to producing alternative democratic globalization Using a feminist methodology that gives attention to the standpoint of women located on the downside of social hierarchies and takes into account strategically diverse points of view this study develops analysis to counter neoliberal globalization as it touches down in the lives of ordinary women and men on the border and beyond
