Customer Care Pat Gannon-Leary, Michael McCarthy, 2010-03-15 Customer Care provides a detailed course suitable for delivery to library staff at all levels. It can be used as a stand alone reference work for customer care processes and procedures or alternatively it can be used by library staff to tailor a customer care course to suit the requirements and training needs of their own staff. Dual use reference work and or training manual. Potential as a text book. Applicable to a wider context than LIS could be used for a whole HEI institutional approach to customer care or in local authorities public services.

A Moment to Breathe (in)courage, 2017-10-03 When the rush of regular life leaves you breathless by day's end this collection of everyday stories becomes the place where you can come as you are and find yourself among friends. Friends who have been there. Friends who'll lean in close and say Me too. Through our stories the bonds of friendship deepen as we listen to each other laugh with each other and learn from each other. Because we're better when we're living this one beautiful life together. With stories from 80 writers these pages become the very place your soul can exhale where you can connect with the hearts of women through stories that echo your own. Find beauty in the ordinary and sometimes messy moments of your everyday life. See your own stories as an offering of hope to those around you. Treasure the unseen ways God moves through even your most regular days. With 365 readings each day begins with a passage of Scripture tells a story of everyday faith and encourages you to take a moment to breathe with a simple but fun way to complete your day. So kick off your shoes and join us for a relaxing but special time where friends come together and share the real stuff of everyday faith.

Customer Service in Academic Libraries Stephen Mossop, 2015-10-06 The term customer service is not new to the academic library community. Academic libraries exist to serve the needs of their community and hence customer service is essential. However the term can be applied in a variety of ways from a thin veneer of politeness to an all encompassing ethic focussing organisational and individual attention on understanding and meeting the needs of the customer. For customers the library's Front Line team is the human face of the library. How well they do their job can have a massive impact on the quality of the learning experience for many students and can directly impact upon their success. The importance of their role and the quality of the services they offer should not be underestimated but in an increasingly digital world and with potentially several thousand individuals visiting every day whether in person or online each with their own agendas and requirements how can the library's Front Line team deliver the personal service that each of these individuals need. Customer Service in Academic Libraries contributes to what academic libraries as a community do really well the sharing of best practice. It brings together in one place examples of how Front Line teams from libraries across a wide geographical area Hong Kong Australia Turkey and the United Kingdom work to get it right for their customers. Between them they cover a range of institutions including research intensive mixed HE FE private establishments and shared campuses. All have their own tales to tell their own emphases their own ways of doing things and all bring their own examples of best practice which it is hoped
